THE COLLEGE

Wellesley College is a liberal arts college for women situated in the township of Wellesley twelve miles west of Boston. The four hundred acre campus was once the country estate of Henry Fowle Durant, a wealthy Boston lawyer. In the 1860's Mr. Durant and his wife, moved by religious convictions, decided to establish a residential college that would "offer to young women opportunities for education equivalent to those usually provided in colleges for young men." It was Mr. Durant's hope that in this college young women could prepare themselves "for great conflicts, for vast reforms in social life, for noblest usefulness." The decision was followed by years of preparation until the College received a charter in 1870 and in 1875 was opened to three hundred and fourteen students.

The resources and size of the College grew steadily. The single building with which Wellesley started, College Hall, housed all students and faculty and contained the library, chapel, classrooms, and laboratories. As the number of students increased, other buildings were added, but College Hall remained the center of community life until it was destroyed by a great fire in 1914. Gradually Wellesley was rebuilt; in place of one enormous structure housing many activities, buildings for special uses were erected on the various hills on the campus.

Today more than forty buildings provide facilities for the intellectual and community life of the College. Fourteen of them are residence halls for undergraduate students. Most of the halls are large, with the result that the student, who finds that academic instruction is usually given in small groups, in the course of her residence forms a wide acquaintance with people who come from many different regions.

Wellesley believes that the study of the liberal arts develops perspective and intellectual strength for the endeavors of a lifetime. It seeks to give to the student broad knowledge of her cultural heritage and to develop her competence in and respect for disciplined, honest thinking. These purposes of the College have remained constant since its founding, while the particulars of its programs are frequently revised under the influences of the changing contemporary world.

The faculty is composed of approximately 170 men and women, trained in many different universities here and abroad and chosen to maintain Wellesley's tradition of good teaching and sound scholarship. The student body includes approximately 1,700 young women who bring to the community the cultural, economic, and regional diversity of the United States, and also representation of many foreign countries. Because of the size and composition of the College the student meets a wide range of viewpoints and fields of special interest; yet she finds that the policies of the modern Wellesley permit education to be an individual process as it was when the College began.

Most classes are small enough to make possible the exchange of ideas between student and teacher and to enable the faculty to know and plan for the needs of each individual. The student is not provided with a required "core" curriculum but in the freshman and sophomore years is asked to elect from many available courses work in the humanities, the social sciences, and the sciences. In this way she builds at once on her own earlier education and her present interests while developing with her fellows a basic community of understanding of the liberal arts.

As soon as she wishes and at the latest by the end of the sophomore year, she selects a major. Within her major department she continues to develop her particular interests by choosing her special work from its offering of advanced courses, seminars, and guided independent study, while limitation of the amount of specialization safeguards the broadly liberal purpose of the four-year undergraduate curriculum.

The student is expected to take the initiative in planning her program and in meeting her academic and residential obligations. At various times before reaching decisions she may need counsel or may wish to talk freely with an older person about her academic or personal life. At such times she can turn easily to her class dean who keeps in touch with her academic progress and her personal welfare, or to her instructors, including the ordained ministers who are teaching members of the faculty, to the resident head of her house, or to the college physicians and psychiatrists. After she selects a major, she may also find helpful the chairman or her adviser in the major department. If she has financial difficulties, she may turn to her dean, to the secretary to the Committee on Scholarships, or to the Students' Aid Society. If she wishes paid work during the academic year or in vacations, or if as a graduating senior or an alumna she wishes employment, the director of the Placement Office is prepared to help her. Because maturing independence is respected, advice is not thrust upon the student, but it is readily available from experts in various areas and from intelligent adults interested in each individual.

The learning situation created by student and teacher is strengthened by the quality of the physical facilities available for their use. At Wellesley the student of the biological or physical sciences finds laboratories unusually well equipped for undergraduate work and having in addition equipment for the work of graduate students and professors, whose research activities she may be invited to share. The student of art finds in the permanent collections on the campus a representative selection of monuments and extensive collections of slides and photographs, as well as rotating loan exhibits. The student of music finds listening rooms where she has access to large libraries of records and practice rooms equipped with grand pianos. The student of language has a modern language laboratory available for her use, and for interested students of French or Spanish special residential corridors are maintained. Any student interested in the young child may observe and work with boys and girls in the college laboratory school for three, four, and five year olds.

Every student benefits from library collections which are unusual in size and quality for an undergraduate college. The working library contains approximately 300,000 volumes carefully selected to meet the needs of the faculty as well as the students. Subscriptions to more than 1,000 American and foreign periodicals and the deposit of certain Government publications important to the student of the social sciences add to its usefulness. Special collections, containing rare items as well as important collateral works, offer opportunities for research to the undergraduate student and the advanced scholar. The College is fortunate in having distinguished collections in English poetry, Italian literature, Medieval European literature, and on the Far East. Except for the rare volumes in these and other special collections, books are kept on open shelves to which the student has immediate access.

A broad program of extracurricular activities, made possible by the size and residential character of the College, supplements the liberal arts curriculum. From them the student chooses those which will contribute most to her enjoyment and growth. She may attend lectures by distinguished scholars, readings by poets, concerts given by famous artists, and art, book, and scientific exhibits. Through participation in various organizations she may test and develop interests in such areas as music, theatre, athletics, journalism, social service, political and civic activity. Whatever her special interest, she finds opportunity to associate informally and to work cooperatively with others.

Some of the student groups, such as choir and theatre, have professional direction; most are organized and conducted entirely by students. Two of them, the Chapel Organization and the College Government Association, are sponsored jointly by students and faculty. The Chapel Organization arranges daily services led by members of the community and Sunday services led by well-known ministers, at all of which attendance is voluntary. It also coordinates denominational and interfaith activities, although the College itself continues to be a Christian, non-denominational institution. The College Government Association, to which all students belong, has executive, legislative, and judicial branches with elected student and faculty representatives, in each of which student representatives form the majority. This Association supports the methods and spirit of responsible democracy; it charters all extracurricular organizations, establishes committees such as the Student Education Committee, and determines social and residential regulations.

The student may also participate in the activities of the larger community of which Wellesley is a part. The nearness of Boston and Cambridge makes the resources of these two cities readily accessible for recreation, for field work in the social sciences, and for cultural enrichment. For example, the department of Music brings to the College members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and other musicians from Boston to give instruction in vocal and instrumental music, while many departments recommend to students afternoon or evening trips to the neighboring cities for various special events.

The present college is in marked contrast to the small faculty and student body, the one building, the collection of eight thousand books, and the restricted social life with which Wellesley started. Yet the serene beauty of the campus remains unchanged, and the student now as always finds opportunity to develop her standards of ethics and taste, of personal and civic responsibility, and her intellectual and creative gifts.

THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum is designed to enable each student to achieve a sound liberal education. To provide the opportunity to gain breadth of knowledge and understanding, each student is asked to select a number of courses distributed among several representative fields of knowledge: the humanities, the social sciences, and the natural sciences. In this part of her work she will become acquainted with ways of thinking and with significant content in several disciplines. To provide a means to achieve depth in learning, each student is asked to choose a field of concentration consisting of a major and allied subjects. In this work she should acquire solid knowledge of one field and an understanding of its particular contribution to our civilization; also, she should develop the competence which comes from continued training and advanced study in her chosen field.

There is scope within the curriculum for each student to meet the specific requirements for the degree and, in addition, to choose a considerable number of courses without any restriction as to subject. Indeed, the purpose of the curriculum is to provide the framework within which the student, assisted by her academic advisers, constructs a program of study suited to her individual interests.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts is required to complete 114 semester hours* of academic work. The normal period of time in which to earn the degree is four years and a normal program of study consists of five courses (15 hours) in each semester of the first three years, and four courses (12 hours) in each semester of the senior year. Also, seniors are required to prepare for a general examination in the major subject.

REQUIRED COURSES

English 100 (freshman year) 6 hours

Biblical History 104 (sophomore year) 6 hours

Physical Education, two periods a week in the freshman and sophomore years (no academic credit)

DISTRIBUTION OF STUDIES

Twelve hours (two year courses or their equivalent in semester courses) are to be elected as indicated from each of the three groups of subjects listed below. Of the 36 hours required for distribution, at least 24 hours

* All references in this catalogue are to semester hours.

 Some students will be exempted on the basis of entrance records and tests taken at Wellesley.

 Students who are able to read Greek may substitute Biblical History 210 (2), The First Three Gospels in Greek, for the second semester of the required course.

are to be taken in the freshman and sophomore years. It is permitted, and in many cases it may be desirable, to postpone until junior and senior years 12 hours, not more than 6 hours in each of two groups. Because in some departments certain courses do not count for distribution, in electing courses to meet this requirement students should consult the "Directions for Election" of each department.

Group I. Literature, Foreign Languages, Art and Music.

Departments of English, French, German, Greek, Italian, Latin, Russian, Spanish, Art, Music.

Twelve hours are to be elected in Group I, 6 in one department and 6 in one or two other departments. Of the 12 hours in this group, at least 6 hours must be in literature, English or foreign: courses in English literature,* courses in Greek, Latin or Russian literature in translation, courses in a foreign language in which the main emphasis is on literature.

Group II. Social Science, History and Philosophy.

Departments of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Anthropology, History, Philosophy.

Twelve hours are to be elected in Group II: 6 hours in economics, or political science, or sociology and anthropology; 6 hours in history or philosophy.

Group III. Science.

Departments of Astronomy, Botany and Bacteriology, Chemistry, Geography, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, Psychology, Zoology and Physiology.

Twelve hours are to be elected in Group III, 6 hours in one department and 6 in one or two other departments. Of the 12 hours in this group, at least 6 hours must be in a laboratory course in one of the following: astronomy, botany, chemistry, geology, physics, zoology, the interdepartmental courses in biology or in physical science. The remaining 6 hours may be taken in courses either with or without laboratory work.

Students who have not taken a recent course in biology in school should consider the advisability of electing botany, zoology or Interdepartmental 103. Those who have not taken a recent course in chemistry or physics in school should consider the advisability of electing one of the physical sciences: astronomy, chemistry, geology, physics or Interdepartmental 106.

* English courses with emphasis on writing may not count for distribution.

 If Interdepartmental 103 or 106 is elected, the remaining 6 hours must be taken in departments not included in the interdepartmental course.

 Interdepartmental 218, History of Science, counts for distribution as a non-laboratory course.

FIELD OF CONCENTRATION

At least 42 hours are to be elected in one field of concentration. This includes a major of 24 or more hours in one department and 18 to 12 hours in courses related or supplementary to the major but falling in one or more departments other than that in which the major is taken.

Courses are classified in grades I, II, III; grade I indicating elementary courses and grade III the most advanced courses. Of the 42 hours in the field of concentration, at least 18 hours must be above grade I; at least 12 hours must be grade III; and at least 6 hours of grade III must be taken in the senior year.

Courses taken in fulfillment of the distribution requirement may be counted in the 42 hours in the field of concentration unless otherwise specified by the department.

During the freshman year, with the assistance of the class dean, all students will begin to give thought to the choice of their major subjects and some may reach a final decision. In the second semester of the sophomore year each student, after consultation with the chairman of the appropriate department, elects a major subject and related courses, and prepares for the Recorder a statement of the courses to be included in the field of concentration. If later revisions are necessary, the final plan for the field of concentration, approved by the chairman of the major department, should be presented to the Recorder not later than the spring of junior year.

All departments of the College offer major courses of study except the following: Education, Physical Education, Russian, Speech.

Occasionally a student may wish to plan a field of concentration which is centered upon the study of an area, a period or a subject cutting across the lines of departmental organization. The following are listed as a few examples of numerous possibilities: Asia, Latin America, Russia, the United States; the Middle Ages, the Renaissance; International Relations, Natural Resources. A student who thinks she might be interested in a program of this kind should consult her class dean and the chairmen of the appropriate departments as soon as possible in her college course to plan a coherent sequence of courses.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must show before graduation that she has some proficiency in the use of at least one foreign language, ancient or modern. This requirement may be met by passing one of the language tests of the College Entrance Examination Board at a score of at least 580, or by the completion of a 6 hour course in college at the second year level or higher. The following courses are of the second year level: French 102, German 102, Greek 201, 202, 205, Italian 201, 204, Latin 103, Russian 200, Spanish 102.

GENERAL EXAMINATION

At the end of the senior year each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must pass a general examination in her major subject, unless as a candidate for honors she is asked to pass special examinations taken in place of the general examination.

The general examination is intended to test the student's intellectual initiative and independence in analyzing, organizing, and relating the material of her major subject; her knowledge of and ability to apply leading ideas met in that subject.

SUPPLEMENTARY DIRECTIONS

Within the 114 hours required for the degree, the student is permitted to elect:

- (1) Not more than 42 hours in any one department
- (2) Not more than two of the following courses: French 101, German 101, Italian 101, Russian 100, Spanish 101
- (3) No studio work in Art without the required amount in the history of art (see department statement)
- (4) Not more than 18 hours in Education
- (5) Not more than 15 or 18 hours in Speech (see department statement)

The program for the senior year may not include more hours of grade I work than of grade III.

STANDARD FOR GRADUATION

To be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Arts a student must complete 114 semester hours of academic work with a credit ratio of at least 1.75, which represents an average grade between C- and C; and she must pass the general examination or an honors examination.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

A candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must be in residence at Wellesley College for at least two years, one of which must be the senior year.

STANDARD OF WRITTEN AND SPOKEN ENGLISH

Students are expected to use good English in their written work in all departments. A student in any class who fails to maintain acceptable standards may be referred to the department of English for remedial work.

Students are also expected to maintain good standards of spoken English. The department of Speech gives speech tests to incoming freshmen. Those who are found in need of corrective work are given an opportunity to undertake it.

RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY

Each department of the College which offers a major course of study provides the opportunity for certain students to undertake a program of individual study directed by a member of the faculty. Under this program, an eligible student may undertake a research project or a program of reading in a particular field. The results of her work normally will be presented in a thesis or in a series of short essays. The conditions for admission to this work in each department are described under the course title, 350, Research or Independent Study.

HONORS AND ACADEMIC AWARDS

HONORS IN THE MAJOR SUBJECT

Students who have shown marked excellence and an unusual degree of independence in their work in the major subject may receive the Bachelor of Arts degree with Honors in the Major Subject. Under a program called Special Honors an eligible student may be invited to undertake a piece of independent investigation in which her work will be supervised by a member of the faculty; the successful completion of the independent work and of an honors examination leads to the award of Honors in the Major Subject. Under a plan called General Honors this same award may be made to students who have shown an unusual degree of independence or distinction in courses in the major subject, have elected a sound program in the field of concentration, and have written an excellent general examination.

The intent behind both plans is to single out the most able scholars for this recognition. To be recommended for this award the student, in addition to showing marked excellence in her major subject, must maintain a good general average in all her academic work.

ACADEMIC AWARDS

Distinction and promise in academic work are recognized by special awards. These awards, unlike financial aid which is described on pages 116-119, are honors open to all students and are awarded without reference to need.

The College confers Freshman Honors on students who maintain high academic standing during the freshman year. It names as Wellesley College Scholars juniors and seniors who maintain high academic standing after the freshman year. The highest title conferred by the College is that of Durant Scholar, which is reserved for juniors and seniors whose scholastic records after the freshman year are outstanding. Honors in the major subject are described above.

Seniors are elected to membership in the Eta of Massachusetts Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of their total academic achievement in college, and seniors who are majoring in the sciences may be elected to associate membership in the Wellesley Chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society.

On recommendation of the faculty the trustees award to four seniors who intend to pursue graduate studies the title of Trustee Scholar. The awards are made on a competitive basis in two categories: two for graduate study without restriction as to subject; two for graduate study undertaken as preparation for college teaching. The title is honorary; in cases of financial need stipends are awarded to the Scholars or, if not required by them, to alternates who need financial assistance.

Certain prizes have been established at the College for the recognition of merit in a particular field. They carry a small stipend or gift and usually bear the name of the donor or the person honored.

GENERAL INFORMATION

COURSE EXAMINATIONS

An examination period occurs at the end of each semester. Examinations for the removal of conditions and deficiencies and for advanced standing may be taken during any examination period and at other specified times.

A student who wishes to take an examination upon a course which is not a part of her approved schedule for the year must apply to the Recorder for the requisite card of admission to the examination.

EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

In many departments exemption examinations are offered for those students who may wish to meet part of the distribution requirement by taking an examination rather than by electing a course. A student is permitted to anticipate in this way no more than 6 of the 12 hours required for distribution in each of the three groups of studies. (See pages 24 and 25.) A student who wishes to apply for an exemption examination to be taken at the beginning of the college year should write to the Recorder before the first of September.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT

Students are encouraged to enter the most advanced courses for which they are prepared by previous study. For information about advanced placement, either with or without special examinations, see pages 109-10.

USE OF THE SUMMER VACATION

Students are encouraged to make constructive use of the long summer vacations, supplementing in them the work and activities of the academic year. Several possibilities are recognized, for example, field or laboratory work, vocational experience, and serious and ordered reading. It is expected that all students will undertake some serious reading, and to assist them in planning it a general book list is given to freshmen for use throughout their college years. Also, for sophomores and juniors, major departments prepare more specialized lists in which the suggested reading is designed to enrich the student's knowledge of her major subject.

THE SUMMER INTERNSHIP IN GOVERNMENT

The College joins with Vassar College in sponsoring a program that enables students from various departments to learn at first hand of the operations of the Federal Government. Students who are accepted for the program spend six weeks in Washington during the summer preceding their senior year. A director arranges assignments in various government bureaus, Congressional offices, and headquarters of the Democratic and Republican National Committees, and meets regularly with the interns during the six weeks.

THE JUNIOR YEAR ABROAD

Qualified students may apply for admission to the various groups spending the junior year in Europe. Wellesley students may study in Paris under the plan sponsored by Sweet Briar College, or in Munich under the auspices of Wayne University, or in Florence, Geneva, Madrid or Paris with groups organized by Smith College. A student who wishes to join one of these groups must have a good academic record and competence in the language of the country in which she plans to study; in general two years of study of the language at the college level are necessary to provide adequate preparation. In advance of making application, a student must have the approval of the chairman of her major department and of her class dean.

PREPARATION FOR GRADUATE STUDY

COLLEGE TEACHING AND RESEARCH

A student who wishes to enter college teaching and research will find that the undergraduate work of the College provides preparation for graduate study leading to advanced degrees in the arts and sciences. She should consult as early as possible the chairman of her major department, or of the department in which she hopes to pursue graduate study, to learn which courses in her field of special interest and which foreign languages will be most useful to her. It should be noted that for graduate study in many fields a reading knowledge of two specified languages is required. The student will find her class dean, her faculty adviser, the chairmen of departments and the Placement Office helpful in locating information about graduate schools.

OTHER PROFESSIONS

In her undergraduate work a student may meet the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and at the same time prepare to enter professional schools, for example, architecture, law, medicine, social service administration, teaching. A sound education in the liberal arts is considered the best preparation for admission to most professional schools but a student who is interested in any one of the professions should consult her class dean to discuss the particular emphasis which she should make in her undergraduate program. She should also consult as soon as possible the catalogue of the graduate school which she has chosen.

TEACHING IN SCHOOLS

Some teaching positions in public as well as in private schools are open to college graduates without further study, although a year of graduate work is required for teachers in many public school systems. Interesting programs have been developed by various states and universities which are designed particularly to prepare graduates of liberal arts colleges for teaching positions.

Wellesley is one of a group of colleges affiliated with the Harvard Graduate School of Education in a program which affords graduates of the cooperating colleges special opportunities for practice teaching in the summer, for paid teaching internships during the regular school year, and for graduate study at Harvard.

A student who cannot plan for graduate work immediately after college is advised to consider enrolling, during the summer following her junior year, in one of several summer programs which provide courses in methods in conjunction with supervised practice teaching.

A student who intends to teach should consult the chairman of the Education Department about requirements for certification and ways of preparing to meet them.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

A student who is planning to study medicine is advised to elect two pre-medical sciences in the freshman year. In general, the minimum requirements for admission to recognized medical schools can be met by 16 hours in chemistry (which must include a course in organic chemistry), 8 hours in physics, and 8 hours in zoology.* Since there is some variation in these minimum requirements and since some medical schools have specific requirements for admission, a student should consult the most recent catalogues of the particular medical schools in which she is interested. At present considerable emphasis is being placed by the medical schools on the importance of a liberal education as a preparation for medical studies and it is possible to fulfill the minimum requirements for medical school and to take the general examination in a field not required for entrance. A student, therefore, is advised to major in the field of her greatest interest. Students wishing to prepare for medical school should consult Professor Helen T. Jones, department of Chemistry.

HOSPITAL AND PUBLIC HEALTH WORK

A student planning to prepare for work in hospital or public health laboratories should begin both chemistry and zoology in the freshman year in order to have the necessary foundation for advanced courses in these subjects and for courses in bacteriology. Students should consult their class deans for advice in planning their programs.

THE CIVIL SERVICE

A student wishing to qualify for examinations offered by the United States Civil Service Commission or various state and local civil service agencies should consult her major department and the Placement Office about current requirements. For many positions some work in statistics and public administration is desirable; graduate study is a qualification for many of the more important posts.

GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS

FELLOWSHIPS FOR ALUMNAE OF WELLESLEY COLLEGE

Three graduate fellowships providing stipends which range from $1,180-$3,000 are open only to alumnae of Wellesley College: the Horton-Hallowell Fellowship for a candidate for the Ph.D. degree; the Vida Dutton Scudder Fellowship for a graduate student in the field of social science, political science, or literature; the Fanny Bullock Workman Scholarship for a student who has completed one year of graduate study. One graduate fellowship is awarded preferably to an alumna of the College:

* For purposes of admission to medical schools a course which meets for 3 hours of laboratory work each week throughout the year, in addition to regularly scheduled lectures, may be considered the equivalent of an 8 hour course.

the Moffett Scholarship of at least $1,000, awarded in alternate years in the field of history.

Graduates of the College are eligible to compete for three fellowships of $2,000 which are awarded annually by the American School of Classical Studies in Athens. Qualified graduates are exempt from any charge for tuition at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens or in Rome.

FELLOWSHIPS AND ASSISTANTSHIPS FOR ALUMNAE OF ANY COLLEGE

Several scholarships are available for candidates for the degree of Master of Arts at Wellesley College. Also, assistantships, which provide stipends of $1800, are available in certain science departments for candidates for the master's degree. Information may be obtained from the Secretary of the Committee on Graduate Instruction.

Four graduate fellowships for study at the institution of the candidate's choice are administered by Wellesley College and are open to alumnae of any college including Wellesley College. They provide stipends ranging from $500-$2,500. The Alice Freeman Palmer Fellowship is without restriction as to field; the Anne Louise Barrett Fund and the Harriet A. Shaw Fund are preferably for study in the field of music; the Amy Morris Homans Fellowships are for study in the field of physical education. Further information and application blanks may be obtained from the Secretary to the President. Application should be made by February 10.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS

A candidate for the degree of Master of Arts is required to complete 24 hours of graduate work, which may include a thesis embodying the results of original research. The program is arranged by the student's major department and is subject to the approval of the Committee on Graduate Instruction. A reading knowledge of French or German, to be tested by examination at entrance, is required. Individual departments may require a second language. At least one year in residence is required of all candidates.

Some departments, but not all, accept candidates for the Master of Arts degree. The College does not maintain a program of courses for graduate students separate from those offered for undergraduates. Properly qualified graduate students are admitted to grade III courses, to seminars, and to course 350, Research or Independent Study.

Information regarding admission, living arrangements, graduate assistantships and scholarships will be found in the bulletin, Graduate Study at Wellesley College, which will be sent upon application to the Secretary of the Committee on Graduate Instruction.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

1958-1959

The following courses of instruction are offered by the several departments. The College reserves the right to withdraw any course not chosen by at least six students.

All courses are classified in grades I, II, III; grade I indicating elementary courses and grade III the most advanced courses. Grade I courses are numbered 100, etc.; grade II courses 200, etc.; grade III courses 300, etc.

The first semester is indicated by (1) following the course number; the second semester by (2). Courses not so designated are year courses. The number of hours of credit appears in parentheses following the course title. A semester course which carries three hours of credit requires approximately nine hours of work each week spent partly in class and partly in preparation. The amount of time scheduled for classes varies with the subject from two hours each week in many courses in the humanities and social sciences to three, four, or five scheduled hours in certain courses in foreign languages, in art and music, and in the sciences. A class period is sixty minutes in length. Classes are scheduled from Monday morning through late Friday afternoon.

ART

Professors: BERNARD CHAPMAN HEYL, M.F.A.; JOHN McANDREW, M.ARCH., DIRECTOR OF THE ART MUSEUM

Associate Professors: AGNES ANNE ABBOT (Chairman); TERESA GRACE FRISCH, PH.D.; DIETHER THIMME; ELIZABETH HOLMES FRISCH

Assistant Professor: CURTIS HOWARD SHELL, PH.D.

Instructors: RICHARD BOYCE; JOAN CROWELL SIEGFRIED, M.A.; JO SANDMAN ASHER, M.A.T.; JASON BERGER; FREDERICK ARTHUR STAHL, M.ARCH.

HISTORY OF ART

Many of the courses in art include some laboratory work in the one or more mediums with which the course is concerned. The department believes that laboratory training has great value in developing observation and understanding of artistic problems, and for this reason requires it of majoring students. It should be stated, however, that no particular natural aptitude is required and that the work is adjusted to the student's ability.

100. INTRODUCTORY COURSE

(6 hrs.)

The major styles in Western architecture, sculpture, and painting from ancient times to the present. A foundation for further study of the history of art. Simple laboratory work (requiring no previous training or artistic skill) planned to give the student a greater understanding of artistic problems. Open without prerequisite to freshmen and sophomores.

The Staff

201 (2). GREEK SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

The development of Greek sculpture from its origins through the Hellenistic age. Study of focal monuments and artists in each successive period. Laboratory work, consisting largely of modeling and carving. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Mr. Thimme, Mrs. Asher

202 (1). MEDIEVAL SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

Western European sculpture of the Romanesque and Gothic periods, introduced by a brief study of pre-Romanesque art. Laboratory work consisting largely of modeling and carving. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Miss Frisch, Miss Abbot

203 (2). MEDIEVAL ARCHITECTURE (3 hrs.)

The architecture of Western Europe from the Fall of Rome to the beginning of the Renaissance, with particular concentration on the great Romanesque and Gothic monuments. Occasional laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Mr. McAndrew, Mr. Stahl

207 (2). ART OF THE FAR EAST (3 hrs.)

A study of the art of India, China, and Japan, with particular emphasis on China. No laboratory work. Open to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Miss Frisch

209 (1). ART OF THE ROMAN EMPIRE (3 hrs.)

The major monuments of architecture, sculpture, and painting in the Roman Empire from the formation of the Roman style through the Late Antique. Emphasis upon Roman contributions to the main tradition of Western art. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 201.

Mr. Thimme

215 (1). EUROPEAN ART THROUGH THE RENAISSANCE (3 hrs.)

The major movements in architecture, sculpture and especially painting from classical antiquity to about 1550. No laboratory work. Open to sophomores who have taken History 101 or Italian 101 or 103, and to juniors and seniors who have not taken or are not taking Art 100.

Mr. Shell, Miss Siegfried

216 (2). POST-RENAISSANCE AND MODERN ART (3 hrs.)

Western art from the beginning of the 17th century to the present. No laboratory work. Open to sophomores who have taken 215 and to juniors and seniors who have not taken or are not taking 100, 218, or 219.

Miss Siegfried

218 (1). BAROQUE PAINTING (3 hrs.)

European painting of the 17th and 18th centuries. No laboratory work. Open to sophomores who have taken 100 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Not open to students who have taken 216.

Mr. Heyl

219 (1). NINETEENTH CENTURY PAINTING (3 hrs.)

A study of painting of the 19th century in Europe and America with emphasis on France. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 218.

Mr. Heyl

301 (2). SEMINAR IN ANCIENT ART (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one or more of the fundamental problems in the history of Ancient Art. No laboratory work. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 201 or 209. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Mr. Thimme

302 (1). ITALIAN PAINTING: THE FOURTEENTH AND FIFTEENTH CENTURIES (3 hrs.)

A brief exposition of late medieval style in Italian painting, followed by studies of selected artists whose work significantly illustrates the character of Early Renaissance style. Particular attention to Florentine masters. Laboratory work included. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken, or are taking, a grade II course in the department, and, by permission, to especially qualified students. Mr. Shell, Mr. Boyce

303 (2). ITALIAN PAINTING: THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

Studies of the major masters of the High Renaissance style, followed by the examination of some selected Mannerist painters, and of those developments within 16th century painting which lead in the direction of the Baroque. Considerable attention to Venetian masters. Laboratory work included. Prerequisite, same as for 302. Mr. Shell, Mr. Boyce

304 (2). RENAISSANCE, BAROQUE, AND MODERN SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

A study of the major sculptors from the 15th century to the present. Laboratory work consisting largely of modeling and carving. Open to students who have taken 100 or 215 and, by permission, to especially qualified students. Miss Siegfried, Miss Abbot

305 (2). MODERN PAINTING (3 hrs.)

A study of European and American painting in the 20th century. Prerequisite, same as for 302. Laboratory work included.

Mr. McAndrew, Mrs. Frisch, Mr. Berger

306 (2).* THE GRAPHIC ARTS FROM THE RENAISSANCE TO THE PRESENT (3 hrs.)

Emphasis on the styles of Dürer, Rembrandt, Goya, Picasso. Special attention to the influence of technique upon style. Laboratory instruction in the processes of woodcut, engraving, etching, lithography. Visits to collections. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken a grade II course in the department. Mr. Thimme, Mr. Boyce

307 (2).* PROBLEMS IN MEDIEVAL STYLE AND TECHNIQUE (3 hrs.)

Study of selected manuscripts, mosaics, and wall paintings in Italy between the 4th and the 13th centuries, with experiments in the medium concerned, for close stylistic and technical analysis. Prerequisite, same as for 302. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Abbot

* Offered in alternate years.

308 (1). RENAISSANCE AND BAROQUE ARCHITECTURE (3 hrs.)

The Early and High Renaissance, Mannerist and Baroque styles of the 15th through the 18th centuries, with particular emphasis on Italy. No laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 304. Mr. McAndrew

309 (1). MODERN ARCHITECTURE (3 hrs.)

The development of modern architecture in Europe and America in the last seventy years. Laboratory work included. Prerequisite, same as for 302.

Mr. McAndrew, Mr. Stahl

311 (1). PAINTING OF NORTHERN EUROPE (3 hrs.)

The period from the late 14th century to the mid-16th century in France, Germany, and the Low Countries. Laboratory work included. Prerequisite, same as for 304.

Miss Siegfried, Mrs. Frisch

325 (2). SEMINAR. THE NATURE AND CRITICISM OF ART (3 hrs.)

A study of various kinds of artistic analyses, and a consideration of problems in the theory and practice of criticism. Open, by permission, to seniors who have taken, or are taking, six additional hours of grade III.

Mr. Heyl

330 (1). SEMINAR. ITALIAN PAINTING (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one or more of the fundamental problems in the history of Italian painting. Open, by permission, to juniors and seniors who have taken 302 or 303. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Mr. Shell

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open, by permission, to juniors and seniors who have taken, or are taking, a course of grade III.

STUDIO COURSES

Six hours of studio work may count toward the degree after six hours in the history of art have been taken; and twelve hours after twelve hours in the history of art have been taken.

105 (1). DRAWING AND SCULPTURE (3 hrs.)

Study of drawing and sculpture, with strong emphasis on design. Abstract problems in line and in relief, as well as portraiture and figure sketching. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors and, by permission, to freshmen who have studied art before entering college. Four periods of class instruction and three of studio practice.

Mr. Berger

106 (2). INTRODUCTORY PAINTING AND DESIGN (3 hrs.)

Spatial and tonal problems partly abstract, partly representational, worked out in a variety of mediums and materials. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors and, by permission, to freshmen who have studied art before entering college. Five periods of class instruction and three of studio practice.

Mrs. Frisch, Mrs. Asher

206 (1). WATERCOLOR AND OIL PAINTING (3 hrs.)

Landscape, still life, and painting from model. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 100, 105, or 106. Five periods of class instruction and three of studio practice.

Mrs. Frisch, Mr. Boyce

208 (2). DESIGN (3 hrs.)

The elements of visual communication, line, form, color, studied in relation to the special function or purpose which the work of art may be called upon to fulfill. Exploration of the potentialities and restrictions of the particular process or material. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken 105, 106, or 206. Five periods of class instruction and three of studio practice. Mr. Boyce

300 (1). ADVANCED PAINTING. I (3 hrs.)

Clarification of various problems in the language of painting, dealt with largely through the oil medium. Individual problems. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken at least one other studio course. Four periods. Mr. Boyce

312 (2). ADVANCED PAINTING. II (3 hrs.)

A continuation of 300. Prerequisite, same as for 300. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Course 100 is the basic introductory course for later work in the department and is required, except by special permission, of majoring students. (See Exemption Examination, below.)

Students planning to major in the department must elect at least one grade II course in ancient, and one in medieval art.

Students majoring in the department must elect at least 24 hours in the history of art.

A reading knowledge of French, German, or Italian, though not required, is very strongly recommended.

The attention of students is called to the interdepartmental major program in Classical Archeology.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Freshmen and sophomores, who secure the permission of the chairman, may qualify for entrance to grade II in art by passing an exemption examination, thus waiving the requirement of course 100.

RELATED COURSES

Related courses may be chosen from many departments: English, History, Music, Philosophy, departments of foreign language and literature.

By careful choice of related courses, a student majoring in art may plan a field of concentration emphasizing one century or period such as Ancient, Medieval, Renaissance, or Modern. Students interested in such a plan should consult the chairman of the department as early as possible.

ASTRONOMY

Associate Professor: SARAH JEANNETTE HILL,¹ PH.D.

Lecturers: FLORENCE SHIRLEY JONES, PH.D. (Acting Chairman); OWEN JAY GINGERICH, M.A.

101. ELEMENTARY ASTRONOMY (6 hrs.)

The solar system; stars, nebulae, galaxies. Open to all undergraduates. Two lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory period. Approximately one-third of the laboratory time is scheduled in the evening for observation and use of the telescopes.

Mrs. Jones, Mr. Gingerich

202. DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Mathematics 202.

203 (1). STELLAR ASTRONOMY (3 hrs.)

Selected topics of stellar astronomy, with emphasis on current work. Stellar populations, the interstellar material, radio astronomy, extra-galactic systems. Prerequisite, 101.
Mr. Gingerich

204 (2).^{*} PRACTICAL AND SPHERICAL ASTRONOMY (3 hrs.)

Theory and use of the transit instrument and equatorial telescope. Introduction to least squares. Prerequisite 101 and prerequisite or corequisite Mathematics 106 or 107. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
Miss Hill

205 (2).^{*} INTRODUCTION TO ASTROPHYSICS (3 hrs.)

The physical nature of the sun and stars derived from analysis of their spectra. Prerequisite, 101, or Physics 101 or 104, and prerequisite or corequisite, Mathematics 106 or 107.
Mrs. Jones

300 (1). BINARY STARS (3 hrs.)

The two-body problem, the determination of the orbits of visual and spectroscopic binaries, stellar masses. Prerequisites, 101 and Mathematics 202.
Mr. Gingerich

301 (1). OPTICS (3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Physics 301.

302 (2). GALACTIC STRUCTURE (3 hrs.)

The methods used in studying the dynamics and constitution of the Milky Way. Prerequisite, 101 and Mathematics 202.
Mr. Gingerich

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

The major in astronomy is based upon 18 hours of astronomy, Mathematics 202 and Physics 200, and normally includes some grade III work in either mathematics or physics. Six hours of astronomy and six hours of mathematics should ordinarily be completed by the end of the sophomore year.

Related or supplementary courses for the major may be elected in the departments of Mathematics and Physics, and may also include Geology 101 and Interdepartmental 218.

Students considering graduate work in astronomy are urged to acquire a reading knowledge of French and German.

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

BIBLICAL HISTORY, LITERATURE, AND INTERPRETATION

Professors: ERNEST RENÉ LACHEMAN, B.D., PH.D.; HERBERT MORRISON GALE, S.T.B., PH.D.; FRED DENBEAUX, B.D., S.T.M. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: MARY LUCETTA MOWRY, B.D., PH.D.

Assistant Professor: HARRY MERWYN BUCK, JR., B.D., PH.D.

Instructors: CHARLES ARTHUR MANN HALL, B.D.; LEANDER EARL KECK, B.D., PH.D.; HELEN IRENE MILTON, S.T.B., M.TH.; JAMES LOUIS MARTYN, B.D., PH.D.

The requirement in Biblical history is met by course 104. Students with a knowledge of Greek may substitute course 210 for the second semester of 104.

104. STUDIES IN THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS (6 hrs.)

Basic material: selected parts of the Old Testament; the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke. Aim: to acquire a knowledge of these materials, of their historical-critical analysis, of the rise of the Hebrew-Christian tradition and the relevance of this tradition to the individual and society. Required of sophomores except as indicated above. The Staff

203. ELEMENTARY HEBREW (6 hrs.)

The elements of Biblical Hebrew grammar and syntax, with practice in translation and the memorizing of a vocabulary. Readings of selections from the Old Testament. Open to juniors and seniors by permission. Mr. Lacheman

204 (1), (2). The BEGINNINGS OF CHRISTIANITY (3 hrs.)

A course designed to enable those students who have already studied the Synoptic Gospels in 104 to continue their study of the New Testament and to see Christianity in contact with the life of the Graeco-Roman world. The rise and earliest development of the Christian religion. Emphasis upon the thought of Paul and of the Fourth Gospel. Prerequisite, 104 or 210. Mr. Gale

206 (1). FURTHER STUDIES IN THE OLD TESTAMENT (3 hrs.)

Detailed work on selected portions of the Old Testament, with emphasis on historical, literary, and theological method. Prerequisite, 104 or 210. Mr. Lacheman

207. HISTORY OF RELIGIONS (6 hrs.)

After a brief examination of primitive and classical religions, major attention devoted to Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and the religions of China and Japan. The history and development of institutions, cultic practices, scriptures and theologies investigated with readings in primary sources. Prerequisite, 104 or 210. Mr. Buck

208 (1), (2). SURVEY OF THE APPLICATION OF CHRISTIAN ETHICS TO SOCIAL PROBLEMS (3 hrs.)

A study of the social teachings of the Christian church in determinative periods of its history. An investigation from this perspective of the relevance of Christian ethics for modern social problems. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking Economics 101 or Sociology 102 or Political Science 100, or any course in medieval or modern history. Mr. Hall

210 (2). THE FIRST THREE GOSPELS IN GREEK (3 hrs.)

Same material as the second semester of 104, planned for those students who, in fulfilling the Biblical history requirement, prefer to study the Gospels in Greek rather than in English translation. Open to students who have taken the first semester of 104 and have taken or are taking a grade II Greek course. Students choosing this way of fulfilling the requirement in Biblical history may postpone the work until their junior year without special permission.

Miss Mowry

213 (2).* JUDAISM FROM PHILO TO SPINOZA (3 hrs.)

The history of Judaism in its relation to the Graeco-Roman world, Christendom and Islam. Reading (in translation) of significant portions of Talmudic, Midrashic, Poetic, and speculative literatures. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.

Mr. Lacheman

216 (1). HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

A survey of the interaction of the Biblical world view with classical culture and the consequent emergence of specifically Christian thought. The Church Fathers, the theology of the Creeds, Augustine, and medieval theology. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.

Mr. Denbeaux

217 (2). HISTORY OF CHRISTIAN THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

The Reformation and the modern world. Studies in the religious thought of the 16th and 19th centuries, primarily. The origin and development of Protestantism, the Episcopal tradition, and the reformation of Roman Catholicism. The 19th century and the emergence of modern theology as influenced by Kierkegaard, Darwin, Marx, Dostoyevsky, and Freud. Prerequisite, 104 or 210.

Mr. Denbeaux

218 (2). AMERICAN CHURCH HISTORY (3 hrs.)

A study of the development of religion in the United States from 1607 to the present. Emphasis on the European theological and ecclesiastical inheritance and its emergence in the American religious divisions and the Ecumenical Movement. Prerequisite, 104 or 210. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Mr. Hall

301 (2).* SEMINAR IN MEDITERRANEAN RELIGIONS (3 hrs.)

Studies in Babylonian, Greek, and Roman theology. Prerequisite, 206.

Mr. Lacheman

305 (2). SEMINAR IN CONTEMPORARY THEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Current interpretations of Christian thought. Study of representative thinkers and movements including Wellhausen, Liberalism, Barth, Niebuhr, and Bultmann. Open to seniors majoring in the department.

Mr. Lacheman, Mr. Gale, Mr. Denbeaux, Miss Mowry, Mr. Buck, Mr. Hall

306 (2).* SEMINAR IN THE OLD TESTAMENT (3 hrs.)

Systematic study of important religious ideas of the Old Testament. Prerequisite, 206. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Mr. Lacheman

307 (1). SEMINAR IN THE NEW TESTAMENT (3 hrs.)

The emergence of New Testament literature in the light of issues confronting the early Christian community. An intensive study of the Gospels and their impact on the growing church. Prerequisite, 204. Miss Mowry, Mr. Keck

* Offered in alternate years.

310 (1), (2). SEMINAR. STUDIES IN HISTORICAL THEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

An intensive examination of the thought of a major theologian. For the year 1958-59, a study of Augustine's City of God. Prerequisite or corequisite for majors, 204, 206, 216; non-majors admitted only by permission of the instructor.

Mr. Denbeaux

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Wide variations in courses are possible for students who major in the department. At the same time, in order to provide cultural scope and to create the proper perspectives of criticism, the major is asked to elect two of the following seminars: 306 (or 301), 307, 310.

Students interested in the original language of the New Testament are encouraged to confer with the Greek Department.

BOTANY AND BACTERIOLOGY

Professors: HARRIET BALDWIN CREIGHTON, PH.D. (Chairman); DELAPHINE GRACE ROSA WYCKOFF, PH.D.

Assistant Professor: EMANUEL DAVID RUDOLPH,³ PH.D.

Instructor: LUCILE CRAVEN WESTON, PH.D.

Graduate Assistants: PATRICIA ANNE COOKE, B.A.; ELKE PETERS; DOROTHEA VAGENAS, B.A.

Custodian: FRANCES KNIBBS FOLSOM

101. GENERAL PLANT SCIENCE (6 hrs.)

A study of plant science presenting the principles of biology and emphasizing the importance of plants in our economic and social life. Topics considered: growth and development of flowering plants; plant nutrition and its relation to animal and human nutrition; heredity and plant breeding; bacteria and other microorganisms; soil; forest and water resources; utilization of plant products in industry. Practice in growing plants in the greenhouses and gardens. Open to all undergraduates except those who have taken Interdepartmental 103. Four periods, one of lecture, three of discussion and work in laboratory, greenhouse, and field.

The Staff

103. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN BIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 103.

201 (1). LANDSCAPE GARDENING (3 hrs.)

A study of cultivated plants with emphasis on their use in landscape gardening. Practice in applying the principles of design to gardens and to home and community plantings. Open to students who have taken 101 or 103 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Counts as a non-laboratory science to meet part of the distribution requirement in Group III. Four periods.

Miss Creighton

202 (1). PLANT BIOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Growth and behavior of plants in relation to their natural environment. Studies of plant communities in the field, and experiments in the greenhouse

 Philosophy 211 may be counted toward the major.

* Absent on leave for the second semester.

and laboratory. Prerequisite, same as for 201. Four periods of lecture and laboratory. Mr. Rudolph

204 (2). BASIC HORTICULTURE (3 hrs.)

The fundamentals of cultivation and propagation of house and garden plants and the methods of control of plant pests and diseases. Prerequisite, same as for 201. Four periods, two of lecture and discussion and two of practice in greenhouse and laboratory. Miss Creighton

205 (2). MICROBIOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Yeasts, molds, and bacteria in relation to man's physical and economic welfare, their importance in daily living, agriculture, industry, public health, and disease control. Prerequisite, six hours in Group III. Two periods of lecture, discussion, and demonstration. May be taken either (a) as a non-laboratory science with special readings and papers required, or (b) as a laboratory science with two periods of laboratory work. Mrs. Wyckoff

207 (1). PLANT RESOURCES (3 hrs.)

A study of the agricultural and forest resources of the world with emphasis on those of the United States; the scientific basis for the production of plants for foods, fibers and the raw materials of industry; the influences of soil, climatic and biological factors on the growth of economically important plants. Prerequisite, same as for 201. Counts as a non-laboratory science to meet part of the Group III distribution requirement. Two periods. The Staff

302 (1). PLANT STRUCTURE (3 hrs.)

A study of cells, tissues, and organs, their functions and roles in the development of form in the organism. Practice in the preparation of plant tissues for microscopic study. Prerequisite, 12 hours in the department. Four periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory. Mr. Rudolph

303 (2). GENETICS (3 hrs.)

A study of inheritance, its cellular basis, the methods by which knowledge of heredity is obtained, and the application of this knowledge to biological problems. Laboratory experimentation with plants. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken six hours in the department and six additional hours in botany or zoology. Four periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory. Miss Creighton

304 (2). PLANT DISEASES (3 hrs.)

Pathogenic fungi, their structure, their physiological processes, and their effects on ornamental and economically important plants. Practice in the cultivation of fungi and methods of combating plant diseases. Prerequisite, same as for 302. Four periods of lecture and of laboratory, field, or greenhouse. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Mr. Rudolph

306. PHYSIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

First semester: Nature of protoplasm; processes of plant cells such as photosynthesis, nutrition and respiration. Second semester: physiological processes in growth and development of green plants; plant hormones, photoperiodism. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken six hours of grade II in the department and who have taken or are taking six hours of chemistry or physics. By permission, the first semester may be elected separately. Four periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Mr. Rudolph

308. GENERAL BACTERIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

Structure and physiological processes of bacteria, their responses to the environment, and their relation to soil fertility, industrial processes, water and milk supplies, food preservation, disease, and immunity. Practice in bacteriological methods and techniques. Open to students who have taken six hours of chemistry or physical science and either six hours of botany, zoology, or biology, or a second course in chemistry. Four periods of lecture and laboratory including one field trip.

Mrs. Wyckoff

312 (1). ADVANCED BACTERIOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Systematic study of bacteria, including serological relationships and roles in disease and immunity. Consideration of recent developments in bacteriology. Practice in bacteriological and serological techniques and procedures. Prerequisite, 308. Four periods of lecture and laboratory.

Mrs. Wyckoff

315 (2). VIROLOGY (3 hrs.)

The nature of viruses and their interaction with plant, animal, and bacterial hosts. Open to seniors who have taken six hours from the following group of courses: 205, 304, 308, 312. Two periods.

Mrs. Wyckoff

322. SEMINAR (3 or 6 hrs.)

A field of botany or bacteriology scrutinized from standpoints of modern achievement, methods of investigation, and the theories and reasoning involved in reaching present-day conclusions. Open to graduate students and to seniors by permission.

The Staff

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

The combination of courses for the major will depend upon the student's particular objectives—general plant science, horticulture and landscape gardening, or bacteriology and medical laboratory work.

Courses in chemistry, geology, geography, physics and zoology are suggested for related work. Art 309 may be considered a related course in certain programs.

The department will admit properly qualified freshmen and sophomores to 202, 204, and 205 without examination but by special permission after consultation with the chairman of the department.

SCHOLARSHIP

At the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole (or at a biological field station approved by the student's major department), a scholarship is open to undergraduates. Students should consult the Chairman of the Department before February 15.

CHEMISTRY

Professors: HELEN THAYER JONES, PH.D.; PHILIPPA GARTH GILCHRIST, PH.D.; MARGARET KINGMAN SEIKEL, PH.D. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: JEAN VEGHTE CRAWFORD,¹ PH.D.

Assistant Professor: ELEANOR RUDD WEBSTER, PH.D.

Instructors: ICLAL SIREL HARTMAN, M.A.; VIOLET EVA SIMMONS, B.A.

Graduate Assistants: NARL CHOW, B.S.; DAPHNE JEAN HOLDER, B.SC.; ESTER LUZ KALAW, B.S.; RASMA BIRZGALIS, B.A.; NANCY LINA BROWN, B.A.; ELIZABETH ANN JARMULOWICZ, B.A.

Custodian: EMILY MAY HOPKINS, M.A.

Assistant Custodian: ANNA POWELL WALKER

101. ELEMENTARY CHEMISTRY (6 hrs.)

A study of the structure and properties of matter and of the fundamental laws and theories of chemistry. Open to students who do not present chemistry for admission. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment. Miss Gilchrist

103. GENERAL CHEMISTRY AND QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS (6 hrs.)

A survey of fundamental chemical principles based on preparatory work in chemistry. General theories, laws, and problems considered during the first semester and applied in the second semester to the study of inorganic semimicro qualitative analysis. Prerequisite, the admission requirement. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Jones, Miss Simmons

106. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 106. This course will, by special arrangement, serve as prerequisite for grade II courses in chemistry. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

200 (1). QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

The fundamental methods of gravimetric and volumetric analysis with emphasis on the theory, laboratory technique, and calculations of each method. Prerequisite, 101 or, by permission, 106. Open to qualified freshmen by permission. One period of lecture and two three-period laboratory appointments.

Miss Jones

201 (2). QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

The principles which govern the reactions of electrolytes in solution, as illustrated by the chemistry of inorganic semimicro qualitative analysis. Prerequisite, 200. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Hartman

202 (1). QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

Subject matter similar to that in 200 but presented from a more advanced point of view. Prerequisite, 103. One period of lecture and two three-period laboratory appointments.

Mrs. Hartman

207 (2). QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

The methods of analysis of complex mixtures correlating the theory and techniques of analytical chemistry. Instrumental analysis included. Prerequisite,

202 or, by permission, 200. One period of lecture and two three-period laboratory appointments. Miss Simmons

301. ORGANIC CHEMISTRY (6 hrs.)

A study of the characteristic properties of simple classes of carbon compounds and of current theories proposed to correlate these properties. Basic laboratory methods and techniques of organic chemistry. Prerequisite, 103 or 200 or, by permission, 101 or 106. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment. Miss Seikel

302 (2). IDENTIFICATION OF ORGANIC COMPOUNDS (3 hrs.)

The systematic qualitative analysis of organic substances. An introduction, through work on individual unknowns, to research methods and attitudes. Open to students who have taken any grade II course and have taken or are taking 301. One period of lecture and discussion and two three-period laboratory appointments. Miss Seikel

303 (1).^{*} ADVANCED QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

The theory and techniques of some modern methods of quantitative analysis, including an introduction to organic microanalysis and to instrumental analysis. Prerequisite, any grade II course and 301. One period of lecture and two three-period laboratory appointments. (Not given in 1958-59.)

Miss Seikel

305 (1). PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

The laws and theories of matter in its various states of aggregation, including the colloid state and solutions; chemical thermodynamics and thermochemistry; the use of these principles for obtaining chemical information. Open to students who have taken any grade II course, Physics 101, 104, or 105, and Mathematics 202, and have taken or are taking Chemistry 301. By permission open to students who offer only Mathematics 106 or 107; conferences with the instructor for the necessary supplementary training in mathematics required of these students. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment. Mrs. Hartman

306 (2). PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

A continuation of 305 including, especially, chemical equilibrium, reaction velocity, electrochemistry, and theories of atomic and molecular structure. Prerequisite, 305. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment. Mrs. Hartman

307 (2). ADVANCED INORGANIC CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

An advanced study of a variety of inorganic substances and an interpretation of their properties in the light of recent theories of atomic and molecular structures. Open to students who have taken any grade II course and who have taken or are taking 301. Two periods of lecture and discussion.

Miss Jones

308 (1). BIOCHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

A study of the chemistry and structure of proteins with emphasis on the properties and reactions of living matter. Prerequisite, any grade II course and 301. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

Miss Gilchrist

309 (2). BIOCHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

The chemistry of the more important classes of carbohydrates and lipids considered especially in terms of biological functioning. Prerequisite, same as for 308. Two periods of lecture and discussion and one three-period laboratory appointment.
Miss Gilchrist

311 (1).^{*} ORGANIC PREPARATIONS (3 hrs.)

A study of modern methods and techniques for preparing and isolating organic compounds in macro and micro amounts. Prerequisite, same as for 308. One period of lecture and two three-period laboratory appointments. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

312 (1). USE OF THE LITERATURE OF CHEMISTRY (1 hr.)

An introduction to the published source materials of chemistry and to their use in advanced work and in research. Prerequisite, same as for 308. One period of lecture and discussion.
Miss Seikel

313 (1). ADVANCED ORGANIC CHEMISTRY (3 hrs.)

A study of an advanced topic in organic chemistry such as stereochemistry, heterocyclic chemistry, reaction mechanisms, or the chemistry of natural products. Ordinarily a different subject each year. Prerequisite, same as for 308. Two periods of lecture and discussion.
Miss Seikel

320. SEMINAR (2 hrs.)

Recent developments in chemistry. Inorganic, organic, physical and biochemistry studied in successive semesters. Open to graduate students. May be taken for two, three or four semesters and may be begun either semester.
The Staff

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 to 6 hrs.)

Open by permission to students who have taken at least 18 hours in chemistry.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

For students planning a major in chemistry one of the following sequences of courses is essential: Interdepartmental 106 or Chemistry 101, 200, 201, and 301; or 103, 202, and 301. Any other courses in the department may be added to these to complete the 24-hour major. All students majoring in chemistry are required to complete at least one year of college physics and are strongly advised to complete one year of college mathematics and to acquire a reading knowledge of French and German.

For admission to most graduate schools Chemistry 305 and 306 with the prerequisite of Mathematics 202 are required.

Premedical students are referred to the requirements as given on page 31.

The American Chemical Society has established a set of requirements which it considers essential for the training of chemists. Students wishing to meet the standard of an accredited chemist as defined by this society should consult the Chemistry Department.

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Unusually well-qualified students may apply for an examination covering the year's work in Chemistry 101. (A college textbook of general chemistry should be used in preparation for this examination.) The satisfactory completion of this examination will be accepted as the equivalent of Chemistry 101 in the work for distribution or as a prerequisite for advanced work in the department.

CLASSICAL ARCHEOLOGY

Director: DOROTHY MAE ROBATHAN, Professor of Latin

An interdepartmental major in Classical Archeology gives opportunity for a study of classical civilization through its art, literature, and history, with emphasis on either the Greek or Roman period.

The field of concentration (42 hours) should normally include ancient history (6 hours); art (12 to 15 hours); Greek or Latin language and literature (18 to 21 hours); independent study of an archeological topic correlating work in art and literature (3 to 6 hours). In addition to the work elected in either Greek or Latin, the candidate must give evidence of a working knowledge of the second language.

ECONOMICS

Professors: LUCY WINSOR KILLOUGH, PH.D.; RICHARD VERNON CLEMENCE, PH.D.
(Chairman)

Associate Professor: CAROLYN SHAW BELL, PH.D.

Instructors: MARY JANE LATSIS,⁴ M.P.A.; FREDERIC NORBERT FIRESTONE, M.S.; MARSHALL IRWIN GOLDMAN, M.A.

101. INTRODUCTORY ECONOMICS (6 hrs.)

A course which assists the student in understanding contemporary life through a study of the economic foundations of our society. The national income and its relationship to prosperity and depression. Economic principles and the institutions within which they operate. The American economic system compared with other existing or theoretical systems of economic organization. Open to all undergraduates.

The Staff

201 (1). ECONOMIC ANALYSIS (3 hrs.)

The basic techniques of modern analysis applicable to problems of income, output, employment, and prices. Fundamentals of economic theory and method. Prerequisite, 101.

Mr. Clemence

202 (1). THE STRUCTURE OF AMERICAN INDUSTRY (3 hrs.)

The organization and development of representative industries in agricultural and industrial production and distribution. Resources and production, markets and prices. Economic aspects of public policy in the regulation of business. Prerequisite, 101.

Mr. Goldman

204 (1). ECONOMIC HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES (3 hrs.)

Economic change in America: the transformation of an agricultural economy; the course of the Industrial Revolution; role of public and private institutions in the process of economic change. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken or are taking 101.

Miss Latsis

⁴ Appointed for the first semester only.

210. FINANCIAL ORGANIZATION OF SOCIETY (6 hrs.)

Money, credit, general price levels, and business cycles. Emphasis on monetary systems and current monetary problems. The work of commercial banks and the functioning of the Federal Reserve system. Business cycles dealt with historically and theoretically, and methods of stabilization analyzed. Prerequisite, 101. Mr. Clemence

211 (1). INTRODUCTION TO SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC STATISTICS (3 hrs.)

Statistical methods as used in the social sciences. Organization and presentation of statistical data. Frequency distributions and simple correlation. Introduction to time series analysis and index numbers. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken or are taking 101. Laboratory work required. Mr. Firestone

212 (2). ECONOMICS OF ACCOUNTING (3 hrs.)

A survey of the fundamental principles of accounting; problems in accounting technique. Emphasis on the relation of accounting theory and practice to economic theory and contemporary economic problems. Aim: to enable the student to interpret and utilize accounting data in other fields of economics and in the analysis of public policy. Prerequisite, 101. Mrs. Bell

301 (1). COMPARATIVE ECONOMIC SYSTEMS (3 hrs.)

Economic processes and goals of alternative types of economic systems. Study of functioning economies, illustrative of capitalism, socialism, communism, fascism. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and have taken or are taking a grade II course in economics, history, political science, or sociology. Mr. Goldman

302 (1). THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN ECONOMIC INSTITUTIONS (3 hrs.)

Economic growth in England and on the continent; determinants of the rate of growth; comparison of national policies and institutions; the agricultural background of the industrial process; the timing of the Industrial Revolution. Some attention to theories of historical economic growth. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and six additional hours in the department. Miss Latsis

306 (2). CORPORATIONS AND COMBINATIONS (3 hrs.)

Corporate structure and operation. The market for corporate securities, including investment banking, other investment institutions, the stock exchange, government regulation of security issues and exchanges. Problems arising from the development of great corporations, through both concentration and combinations; anti-trust policy in the United States. Prerequisite, same as for 301. Mr. Goldman

307 (1). THE ECONOMICS OF CONSUMPTION (3 hrs.)

Analysis of wants and choices of consumers; income distribution and consumption patterns; marketing in its relation to consumers; legislative influences; the impact of consumption decisions on the economy. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and have taken or are taking six additional hours in economics, psychology, or sociology. Mrs. Bell

308 (2). LABOR ECONOMICS (3 hrs.)

Activities and policies relating to American labor. Growth and composition of the labor force. Labor unions and collective bargaining. Public policy; social legislation. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and have taken or are taking a grade II course in economics, sociology, or political science.

Mr. Firestone

310 (1). PUBLIC FINANCE (3 hrs.)

Principles and problems of government revenues, expenditures, and debts. Fiscal policy and the national income; the shifting and incidence of taxation. Special emphasis on the tax system of the United States. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and have taken or are taking one of the following: 203, 204, 209, 210, 212, Political Science 201, 203, 304.

Mrs. Killough

312 (2).^{*} ECONOMIC STATISTICS (3 hrs.)

Further development of techniques studied in 211. Investigation of an economic problem susceptible of statistical analysis. Design of the project, collection and tabulation of data, analysis and report of results. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 211 or, by permission, to students who have taken Mathematics 205, and have taken or are taking any other course of grade II in economics.

Mrs. Bell

313 (1). SEMINAR. SELECTED TOPICS IN ECONOMIC MOVEMENTS AND THEORIES (3 hrs.)

Subject for 1958-1959: A survey of contemporary economics, with intensive study of recent developments in problems of theory, policy, and techniques. Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken 18 hours in economics. Two consecutive hours each week with a third at the pleasure of the instructor.

Mrs. Bell

314 (2). INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS (3 hrs.)

Industrial foundations of international trade. Theories and institutions of international trade and investment. The international economic position of countries in different stages of economic growth. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and have taken or are taking 204, 209, or 210, or who are majoring in geography, history or political science and have taken or are taking a grade II course in their major subject.

Mrs. Killough

315 (2).^{*} HISTORY OF ECONOMIC THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

The development of economic thought from ancient to modern times. A brief survey of early economic ideas, followed by a more detailed examination of the history of economics since 1776. The systems of the leading economists in the light of their own times and of the present day. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and who have taken or are taking six additional hours in economics. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Mr. Clemence

316 (2).^{*} MODERN ECONOMIC THOUGHT (3 hrs.)

Recent developments in economic thought, and their significance for theory and policy. Reading and discussion of contemporary economic literature. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and have taken or are taking six additional hours in economics. Mr. Firestone

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to juniors and seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students planning a major in economics should consult a member of the department concerning sequences of courses. A minimum major of 30 hours is recommended.

Students wishing to emphasize international relations in their field of concentration should consult the chairman of the department as early as possible.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

The department is prepared to offer an examination for advanced standing covering the field of introductory economics.

EDUCATION

Associate Professor: MARY EWEN ULICH, ED.D. (Chairman)

Lecturers: ESTHER PASTENE EDWARDS,⁵ M.A.; LOUISE CATHERINE HEUSER KELLER, ED.M.

101 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO CLASSICAL PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Philosophy 101.

102. INTRODUCTION TO PSYCHOLOGY (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Psychology 102.

104 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO MORAL PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Philosophy 104.

200 (1), (2). PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION (3 hrs.)

The role of philosophical thought and analysis in the clarification of major problems of education. Discussion of the aims of schooling, and the relation of knowledge to individual and social values. Open to sophomores who have taken or are taking a course in philosophy, psychology, or sociology, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Mrs. Ulich

201 (2). HISTORY OF EDUCATIONAL IDEAS (3 hrs.)

Study of the interrelationship between educational ideas and ideals and their historical setting, their influence on the educational process, and their contribution to the general development of culture. Prerequisite, 200. Mrs. Ulich

202 (2). THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (3 hrs.)

The organization of the elementary school, its curriculum, the teacher's work, and current educational policies. Emphasis placed on the development and characteristics of elementary school children. Observation in schools required. Prerequisite, 200. Miss Edwards

⁵ Appointed for the second semester only.

- 207 (1). CHILD PSYCHOLOGY (3 hrs.)
For description and prerequisite, see Psychology 207.
- 219 (2). PSYCHOLOGY OF LEARNING (3 hrs.)
For description and prerequisite, see Psychology 219.
- 300 (1). SECONDARY EDUCATION (3 hrs.)
The aims, organization, and administration of secondary schools considered in relation to their social, political, and economic environments. Criteria for evaluating curricula and classroom problems included. Observation in schools required. Prerequisite 200 and a course in psychology. Mrs. Ulich
- 302 (2). PRINCIPLES OF TEACHING (3 hrs.)
Study of teaching objectives, curriculum planning, classroom procedures. Review of learning theories. Class divided into groups for six weeks of intensive work in the methods and materials of a specific subject matter; for example, English, foreign language, social science, science. Open by permission to seniors who have taken 300. The Staff
- 305 (1). THE EDUCATION OF THE YOUNG CHILD (3 hrs.)
A survey of the theory and practice of early childhood education, including the study of young children as members of society who are responding to educational influences. Four hours a week of observation and participation at the Page Memorial School. Open to seniors, and by permission to juniors who have taken 200 and a course in psychology. Mrs. Keller
- 306 (2). THE EDUCATION OF THE YOUNG CHILD (3 hrs.)
Further studies in early childhood education. Advanced participation at the Page School. Prerequisite, 305. Mrs. Keller
- 307 (1). PSYCHOLOGY OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF PERSONALITY (3 hrs.)
For description and prerequisite, see Psychology 307.
- 310 (2). SEMINAR (3 hrs.)
An intensive and critical examination of the educational theories of several selected writers. Special attention given to the relevance of their ideas to the problems of American education. Open to seniors by permission. (Not given in 1958-59.) Mrs. Ulich

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students who intend to teach should (in their sophomore year if possible) consult the department concerning the various city and state requirements for the certificate to teach.

Although the College does not offer a major in education, students may take up to eighteen hours, which is the required number in many states. They may elect also the courses listed above in philosophy and psychology which are important in the preparation of teachers. There are ample opportunities for observation in neighboring school systems.

English 312 is pertinent for those planning to teach English.

Additional courses which may be helpful in preparation for teaching are: History 221, 222, 310; Psychology 224, 313, 314, 317; Sociology 104, 202, 222; Speech 101, 102, 202.

ANNE L. PAGE MEMORIAL SCHOOL

Director: LOUISE CATHERINE HEUSER KELLER, ED.M.

The Anne L. Page Memorial School for children from three to five years of age is the college laboratory school and as such it is an integral part of the educational program of the College. It is a center for child study, observation, and participation for students from all departments of the College, and it is especially helpful to students working in the departments of Education and of Psychology.

ENGLISH

Visiting Professor: CHAD WALSH, PH.D.

Associate Professors: MARY ELEANOR PRENTISS, M.A.; VIRGINIA FLEMING PRETTYMAN, PH.D.; HELEN STORM CORSA, PH.D.; KATHERINE LEVER, PH.D.; PATRICK FRANCIS QUINN, PH.D. (Chairman)

Assistant Professors: BEVERLY JOSEPH LAYMAN, PH.D.; DAVID RUSSELL FERRY, PH.D.; ROBERT ERWIN GARIS, PH.D.; PHILIP BOOTH,¹ M.A.; JOHN HERMAN RANDALL, III, PH.D.

Instructors: GRETCHEN PAULUS, M.A.; RUTH MARGUERITE VANDE KIEFT, PH.D.; NADYA LOUISE AISENBERG, M.A.; MARTHA ALDEN CRAIG, M.A.; MARTIN BURGESS GREEN, PH.D.; NAOMI JUNE DIAMOND, M.A.; MARY ANN YOUNGREN, M.A.

Lecturer: SYLVIA LEAH BERKMAN,⁴ PH.D

100. LANGUAGE, LITERATURE, AND THE INDIVIDUAL (6 hrs.)

The reading of non-fiction, novels, short stories, poetry, and drama chosen from the best English and American literature; writing directed towards the evaluation of personal experience, of the literature studied, and of non-literary source materials; the exploration of the possibilities of the English language. Training in the use of the library and documentation. Fortnightly themes or their equivalent. Regularly scheduled individual conferences. Required of freshmen. This course may not count towards a major in English. The Staff

106. LITERATURE IN FOUR AGES: RENAISSANCE, BAROQUE, NEO-CLASSICAL, ROMANTIC (6 hrs.)

An introduction to literary history and critical analysis through the reading of major texts from Marlowe to Wordsworth. Open to all undergraduates except those who have taken 102 or 104. The Staff

107. INTERPRETATIONS OF MAN IN WESTERN LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 107. See also footnote on page 58.

Courses 200-203 inclusive are planned as workshops in writing, with informal group meetings, sometimes fewer than three times a week, and frequent individual conferences. While the emphasis is on constant practice in writing, each course requires a critical reading of pertinent examples of the type of writing being studied. Courses 301-305 inclusive continue the same plan at an advanced level.

⁴ Appointed for the first semester only.

- 200 (1), (2). SHORT NARRATIVE AND DRAMA (3 hrs.)
 Particularly the short story and the one-act play. Prerequisite, 100. Not open to students who have taken three semesters of grade II work in writing or who are taking another writing course.
Miss Prentiss, Miss Lever, Miss Berkman, Mr. Green
- 201 (1), (2). THE ESSAY (3 hrs.)
 Personal, critical, and biographical. Prerequisite, same as for 200.
Miss Prentiss
- 202 (2). POETRY (3 hrs.)
 The writing of short lyrics and study of the art and craft of poetry. Open to juniors and seniors, and by permission to sophomores.
Mr. Walsh
- 203 (1). EXPOSITORY AND JOURNALISTIC WRITING (3 hrs.)
 The writing of reviews, reports, news stories, and magazine articles. Prerequisite, same as for 200.
Miss Vande Kieft, Mr. Green
- 210 (1), (2). MODERN POETRY (3 hrs.)
 English and American poetry and poets, recent and contemporary. Open to sophomores who have taken six hours of literature in the department, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mr. Ferry, Mr. Walsh
- 212 (1), (2). MODERN DRAMA (3 hrs.)
 The history of the drama of England and America from 1879 to our own day, with study of the influence of Ibsen and other continental dramatists. Prerequisite, same as for 210.
Mr. Garis, Miss Paulus
- 214 (2). LITERATURE OF THE ENGLISH RENAISSANCE EXCLUSIVE OF DRAMA (3 hrs.)
 The sonnet, the lyric, and narrative poetry; fiction, pamphlets, and literary criticism. Emphasis upon Sidney and Spenser as representing the spirit of the age. Prerequisite, same as for 210. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
Miss Hawk
- 215 (2). INTRODUCTION TO SHAKESPEARE (3 hrs.)
 The study of a number of representative plays, with emphasis on their dramatic and poetic aspects. Open to juniors and seniors only. Primarily for non-majors.
Mr. Walsh
- 217 (1), (2). MILTON (3 hrs.)
 A critical study of Milton as a master of lyric, epic, and dramatic poetry, and as a writer of notable prose. The character and genius of the poet, as influenced by the political and religious conflict of the time. Prerequisite, same as for 210.
Miss Hawk
- 220 (1), (2). CHAUCER (3 hrs.)
 A study of Chaucer's poetry, tracing the development of his art and showing the relation of his work to the social and literary background of his time. Prerequisite, same as for 210.
Miss Corsa
- 221 (2). HISTORY OF ENGLISH DRAMA TO 1642 (3 hrs.)
 Medieval popular religious drama, 16th century types of comedy, the development of Elizabethan tragedy, 17th century satiric plays, tragedy and tragi-comedy. Emphasis on such major figures as Marlowe, Jonson, and Webster. Prerequisite, same as for 210. (Not given in 1958-59.) Mr. Layman

223 (1). AMERICAN LITERATURE (3 hrs.)

The beginnings of American literature and the social conditions out of which it grew, followed by a consideration of American writers through Melville. Emphasis upon major figures. Prerequisite, same as for 210.

Miss Michael, Mr. Quinn, Mr. Randall

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

The above courses, with certain exceptions, may be elected to fulfill the distribution requirement in Group I. These exceptions are writing courses and 312.

Course 100 counts for the Bachelor of Arts degree but does not count toward the major. In the major a semester grade II workshop, though not required, is very strongly recommended. At least 18 hours of literature must be elected, of which 15 are to be before the modern period (i.e. 210, 212, 226, 318, 327). For students interested in writing, a sequence of practice courses is provided, but no two writing courses may be taken simultaneously. Writing workshops are in general limited to fifteen. In applying for enrollment in seminars or 350 work, students of at least B standing in the work of the department will have first consideration.

All students majoring in English should shape their programs with the following expectations clearly and constantly in view:

- (1) to know representative works of a variety of great writers in English;
- (2) to relate these works to the culture of their times;
- (3) to read closely and critically;
- (4) to write not only with ease and accuracy but with regard for literary form and expression.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Freshmen who secure the permission of the chairman may qualify for entrance to grade II work in literature by passing an exemption examination covering the material of course 106.

RELATED COURSES

Knowledge of English history, of the course of European thought, and of at least one foreign literature at an advanced level (preferably in the original language) is of great value to the student of English. See, for example, History 103, 213, 217, 310; Philosophy 203 and 214; grade II and grade III courses in foreign literatures; see also Greek 104 and 203; Italian 103; Latin 105; Russian 201 and 202; Interdepartmental 107 (when not considered as part of the major†).

A student who wishes to teach English in secondary school should consider Education 200, 300 and 302, as well as English 312, THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

For opportunities to specialize in certain periods (e.g. the Middle Ages, the Renaissance), see courses in the departments of Art, History, other languages, Philosophy, etc. This correlation should be planned as early as possible.

Prerequisite, same as for 321. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (2 to 6 hrs.)

Prerequisite, same as for 321.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Courses 104, 200, 201, 204, 212-213, and grade III courses (except 308, 310, 313, 316) may be elected to fulfill the literature requirement in Group I.

Course 101 counts for the degree but does not count toward a major.

Course 102 counts for the major only if directly followed by a six-hour course of grade II.

Students taking courses 101 and 102 should not elect a third course of grade I. Students planning to major in French (with the exception of those who carried a grade II course in their freshman year) should not elect a second six-hour course of grade II without permission of the department.

Courses 221, 308, 310 give valuable training in language skill. Students majoring in French should plan to elect at least two of these courses. Courses 224 and 316 will give intensive training in diction.

Students majoring in French are advised to include 301 in their program. Students proposing to elect 307 in the senior year are advised to elect 300 or 301 in the junior year.

Special attention is called to Education 302 (Principles of Teaching). This course may be counted toward a French major or as a related subject. Recommended to students interested in teaching French.

RELATED COURSES SUGGESTED FOR ELECTION

Geography 208, and History 210 and 211 are especially useful for French majors.

Students who may wish to do graduate work in French are advised to begin the study of a second modern language.

The following courses are suggested for a sound program of related work: French 300: English 230, 231; German 204, 304, 305; Italian 204.

French 301: Greek 203; Latin 105; courses in Italian and Spanish literature which include the 16th and 17th centuries; Philosophy 214.

French 305: English 225; Spanish 302.

French 307: English 210, 226; German 308, 312; Italian 201; Spanish 204.

By careful choice of related courses, a student majoring in French may plan a field of concentration emphasizing one period, such as the Middle Ages, the Classical period, or contemporary France. Students interested in such a plan should consult the chairman of the department as early as possible.

GEOGRAPHY

Associate Professor: ELIZABETH EISELEN, PH.D. (Chairman)

Instructor: MARTHA ELEANOR CHURCH, M.A.

Custodian: MARGARET MARSH STEELE, B.A.

104 (1), (2). GEOGRAPHY OF THE UNITED STATES, CANADA, AND ALASKA (3 hrs.)

A study of the various elements of the natural environment and of the principles underlying their distribution, with special reference to the major geographic regions of Anglo-America. Particular consideration given to environmental factors of importance to current economic and political problems. Open to all undergraduates.

Miss Eiselen

105 (2). GEOGRAPHY OF SOUTH AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A study of the environmental characteristics of the countries of South America; the influence of environment on colonization and upon the present and possible future economic development of the various countries. Open to freshmen who have taken 104, and to sophomores, juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Miss Eiselen

208 (1), (2). GEOGRAPHY OF EUROPE (3 hrs.)

A study of the geographic character of the European continent through the regional approach within each country; emphasis on both natural environment and human imprint in the regions; special attention given to the geographical basis for current political and economic problems. Open to sophomores who have taken 104, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Miss Church

211 (2). CARTOGRAPHY (3 hrs.)

History of maps; principles and problems involved in map making and map interpretation; use of aerial photographs and other source materials. Opportunity in laboratory for individual map projects to suit special interests of the student. Prerequisite, same as for 208. Three periods of lecture and laboratory.

Miss Church

212 (1). CONSERVATION OF NATURAL RESOURCES (3 hrs.)

A study of the need for and the principles governing the conservation of natural resources; problems of floods, water supply, land reclamation, forest, grassland, soil, wildlife, and mineral and fuel supplies. Prerequisite, same as for 208. (Not given in 1958-59.)

Miss Eiselen

303 (2).^{*} GEOGRAPHY OF MIDDLE AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A geographic study of Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean Islands; the environmental background for the formation of the many political units and for the economic development of the various countries and natural regions. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken six hours of regional geography, and to juniors and seniors majoring in Spanish who have taken 104 or 105. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Eiselen

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

305 (2).* GEOGRAPHIC PROBLEMS IN AFRICA AND THE MIDDLE EAST (3 hrs.)

A study of the geography of Africa and the Middle East with emphasis on selected geographic problems. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken six hours of regional geography, or, by permission, to specially qualified students. Miss Eiselen

308 (1).* GEOGRAPHY OF ASIA (3 hrs.)

A study of the geographic character of the Asiatic continent, emphasizing China, Korea, Japan, and India-Pakistan; attention given to the physical features as well as the strong cultural imprint on the land; special recognition given to the geographical background for Asia's current problems. Prerequisite, same as for 305. Miss Church

310 (1).* GEOGRAPHIC PROBLEMS IN THE SOVIET UNION (3 hrs.)

Intensive study of significant geographic problems in the U.S.S.R. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 208 and another course in regional geography, or, by permission, to specially qualified students. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

311 (1). SEMINAR. WORLD PATTERNS (3 hrs.)

Study of selected physical elements of geography from the systematic approach as the basis for the correlation of the repeated geographic patterns of the continents into world patterns. Projects on Australia and other areas not covered in the regional courses. Required of senior majors; open to seniors who have taken twelve hours of regional geography. The Staff

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open, by permission, to senior majors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Courses 104, 105, 208, 211 may be elected as non-laboratory science courses to fulfill part of the Group III distribution requirement. Other courses in geography do not count for distribution.

A geography major should include 104, 105, 208, 211 and 311. In addition, related work should include Botany 207 or Geology 101 (1). Geology 204 correlates well with geography.

GEOLOGY

Professor: LOUISE KINGSLEY, PH.D. (Chairman)

Instructor: DABNEY WITHERS CALDWELL, M.A.

Custodian: MARGARET MARSH STEELE, B.A.

101.† GENERAL GEOLOGY (6 hrs.)

First semester: physiography. A study of rocks and minerals of the earth's crust; agents such as rivers, glaciers, and oceans which modify the landscape; mountain building and the earth's interior.

* Offered in alternate years.

† The first semester may be elected separately by juniors and seniors who have taken a full year of laboratory science in another department.

Second semester: historical geology. The origin of the earth and the sequence of geologic events by which its present characters have been developed, including the origin of mineral deposits. The evolution of life on the earth.

Open to all undergraduates. Two periods of lecture or discussion and three of laboratory. Occasional afternoon field trips substituted for laboratory work.

The Staff

103 (2). GEMS AND RELATED MINERALS (3 hrs.)

A study of physical properties of minerals. Laboratory work: determination of physical properties, identification, cutting and polishing semiprecious stones. Open to all undergraduates. Three periods of lecture and laboratory. Counts toward a major in geology but not for distribution.

Miss Kingsley

202 (1). MINERALOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of common ore, rock-forming, and accessory minerals. Geologic occurrence and economic use. Identification by physical properties and simple chemical tests. Field trips. Prerequisite, Geology 101 or 103, Chemistry 101, or Interdepartmental 106. Five periods of lecture and laboratory.

Mr. Caldwell

204 (2). GEOMORPHOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of land forms and their origin; their use in interpretation of geologic history; streams, glacial features and shore processes studied in the field and in the laboratory. Quantitative studies of topographic maps and stream-gauge data. Practical application of geomorphology. Open to students who have taken one semester of 101. Three periods of lecture and laboratory. (Not given in 1958-59.)

Mr. Caldwell

205 (1). INVERTEBRATE PALEONTOLOGY (3 hrs.)

The facts and principles of organic evolution as revealed by the life of the past. The steps in the development from simple, generalized forms to more complex and specialized types illustrated by a comparative study of fossils. Prerequisite, 101, Zoology 101, or Interdepartmental 103. Three periods of lecture and laboratory. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Miss Kingsley

206 (1). REGIONAL GEOLOGY OF NORTH AMERICA (3 hrs.)

A systematic study of the United States, Canada, and Mexico by physiographic provinces, dealing with the geologic history, the kinds of rocks (including the economically important rocks), the structures and their relations to topography. Prerequisite, 101. Three periods of lecture and laboratory.

Miss Kingsley

207 (2). ECONOMIC GEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of economically valuable mineral deposits, both metallic and non-metallic. The origin, composition, and geological and mineralogical relations of these deposits; their geographic distribution and political significance. Prerequisite, 101 and 202. Lecture, class discussion, and laboratory.

Mr. Caldwell

312 (2). CRYSTALLOGRAPHY (3 hrs.)

Crystal systems. Principles of optical crystallography. Determination of minerals by means of their optical properties. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 202. Juniors and seniors majoring in chemistry or in physics admitted to the course upon the recommendation of either department. Three periods of lecture and laboratory. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Mr. Caldwell

313 (1). STUDIES IN STRATIGRAPHY (3 hrs.)

Various aspects of sedimentary rocks such as lithology, origin, environments of deposition, structures and relationships studied as aids in reading the stratigraphic record. Various laboratory techniques utilized in determining origin, history, and correlation of sedimentary materials. Individual study projects. Prerequisite, 101 and 202. Three periods of lecture and laboratory. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Mr. Caldwell

314 (1). STRUCTURAL GEOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Description and interpretation of rock structures. The origin and structure of mountain ranges. Individual study of areas of special interest. Laboratory work: interpretation of geologic maps, the drawing of cross-sections, and graphical solution of problems. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and a grade II course in geology. Three periods of lecture and laboratory, with occasional field trips. Miss Kingsley

315 (2). VULCANISM AND IGNEOUS ROCKS (3 hrs.)

Extrusive and intrusive phases of vulcanism. Description, identification, and origin of igneous and related metamorphic rocks. Particular emphasis on regional studies. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 101 and 202. Lecture and laboratory, with occasional field trips. Miss Kingsley

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open, by permission, to juniors and seniors who are majoring in the department.

SUMMER FIELD COURSES. The department will recommend summer field courses given by other colleges (dealing chiefly with the Rocky Mountain region) to interested students who have completed one year or more of geology at Wellesley. Credit may be given for such courses provided the student's plans are approved in advance by the department.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A geology major must include 101. Grade II courses should be selected with a view to the type of advanced work which the student desires. Advice from the department should be secured. A summer field course in western United States is suggested as a good background for advanced courses.

Students interested in minerals will find good correlation among the following courses: 103, 202, and 312.

Geography 212 and the regional courses correlate well with geology. Chemistry is desirable for students majoring in geology. Those intending to do graduate work should consult the department in the selection of related courses.

GERMAN

Associate Professors: MAGDALENE SCHINDELIN, PH.D.; BARBARA SALDITT, PH.D. (Chairman)

Assistant Professor: MARTHA JULIA GOTH, PH.D.

The language of the classroom in all courses is almost exclusively German. The student thus has constant practice in hearing, speaking, and writing German. Capable students in 101 have the opportunity, by doing special reading during the summer and upon approval of the Chairman, to omit 102 and proceed with 202, an introductory course in German literature. A summer term at the German School, Middlebury College, is recommended as stimulating and helpful.

Well qualified students will be allowed to spend the junior year in Germany. See page 30, The Junior Year Abroad.

101. ELEMENTARY COURSE (6 hrs.)

Study of grammar and vocabulary; frequent written exercises; reading of short stories; special emphasis on oral expression. Open to students who do not present German for admission. Three periods and laboratory. The Staff

102. INTERMEDIATE COURSE (6 hrs.)

Extensive reading with emphasis on vocabulary building; review of fundamental principles of grammar; frequent composition and oral expression; discussion of German culture. Prerequisite, 101 or two admission units in German. Three periods and laboratory. Miss Salditt, Miss Goth

104. OUTLINE HISTORY OF GERMAN LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

First semester: an introduction to German literature from its beginning to the 17th century. Second semester: an introduction to the 17th and 18th centuries, Schiller and Goethe. Open to freshmen who present three or more admission units in German. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Salditt

202. INTRODUCTION TO GERMAN LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

A study of the development of German literature and its cultural background from 800-1800. Works read and discussed are: the Hildebrandslied, selections from the Nibelungenlied, the works of Wolfram, Gottfried, Hartmann, the Minnesingers; Volkslied, selections from Luther, Hans Sachs, Lessing, Herder, Schiller, Goethe. Prerequisite, 102 or, by permission, 101. Open to freshmen by permission. Three periods. Miss Schindelin, Miss Salditt

204 (1). GOETHE (3 hrs.)

Goethe's life and work; his literary growth studied with emphasis on his development from "Sturm und Drang" to classicism. Prerequisite, 104 or 202. Miss Salditt

205 (1). GERMAN LITERATURE OF THE EARLY NINETEENTH CENTURY (3 hrs.)

The development from romanticism to realism, studied in such authors as: Eichendorff, Novalis, Stifter, and Hebbel. Open to students who have taken 104 or 202 and, by permission, to other students with sufficient knowledge of German. Miss Goth

206. CONVERSATION (2 hrs.)
Practice in the use of the spoken language. Class discussions based on readings in newspapers, periodicals, and other contemporary materials. Open to students taking 202, and to others by permission of the instructor. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Schindelin
- 207 (2). ADVANCED COMPOSITION AND CONVERSATION (3 hrs.)
Intensive work in written and oral German; composition, translation, grammar. Prerequisite, 202 or 206, or, by permission, 104. Miss Goth
- 209 (2). LINGUISTICS (2 hrs.)
Study of the structure of the German language: advanced syntax, morphology, semantics, with emphasis on synonymy. Prerequisite, 202 or 206, or, by permission, 104. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
- 304 (2). GOETHE'S Faust (3 hrs.)
Intensive study of Goethe's Faust, Part I; extensive study of Part II. Prerequisite, 202 and 204. Miss Salditt
- 305 (2). FROM CLASSICISM TO ROMANTICISM (3 hrs.)
A study of the following authors and their respective relationships to classicism or romanticism: Schiller, Hölderlin, Kleist. Prerequisite, 204 or 205. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Goth
- 306 (2). FROM LESSING TO HERDER (3 hrs.)
Literary trends in the 18th century. Extensive selections from Lessing, Herder, and Winckelmann. Prerequisite, 304. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Salditt
- 308 (1). LITERATURE OF THE LATE NINETEENTH AND THE EARLY TWENTIETH CENTURIES (3 hrs.)
Intellectual and aesthetic trends of the period. Varied texts: dramas, lyric poetry, novels, essays, letters of representative authors. Prerequisite, 204 or 205, and open to seniors by permission of the instructor. Miss Schindelin

Aspects and tendencies of 20th century literature from the First World War to the present time. Prerequisite, same as for 308. Miss Schindelin
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)
Open by permission to seniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

To fulfill the literature requirement in Group I, students may elect courses 104, 202, 204, 205, and grade III courses.

Course 101 may be counted for the degree but not for the major.

Course 102 may count for the major.

Students who begin with 101 in college and wish to major in German should consult the department in order to obtain permission to omit 102 and take 202 and 206.

Students intending to major in the department are requested to take 104 or 202 and at least 12 hours of grade III work.

Open to senior majors by permission. The Staff

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open by permission to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking a course of grade III in history.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students electing history may choose any of the introductory courses 101, 102 or 103, but not more than one of these courses may be counted in a major.

For purposes of the general examination in history required of major students, the work of the department has been distributed among five fields: (1) Ancient, (2) Medieval and Early Modern to 1648, (3) Modern European, (4) American and Latin-American, (5) International Relations (includes also foreign policy, diplomatic history, imperialism, British Empire). A student concentrating in history will normally distribute her elections so as to include at least a semester's work above the level of grade I in three of these fields. It is, nevertheless, also possible, if a student so desires, to design a major which will conform to these limitations, and at the same time emphasize a period (e.g. Medieval) or an area (e.g. the history of international relations) of study. Students who wish to make such an emphasis should consult with the chairman or with their special adviser in the department as early as possible.

It is suggested that students other than history majors who propose to teach history elect at least 24 hours in the department.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

Students who before entering college have had unusual preparation in European history with regard to both amount and type of training may apply for examination for exemption from the requirement for distribution, or for entrance directly into grade II work. In addition to the evidence offered by the examination, they will be expected to give further indication of their training by submitting papers prepared in secondary school for their classes in history.

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL COURSES

103.* AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN BIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

Miss Livermore

105 (2). LATIN LITERATURE IN ENGLISH TRANSLATIONS (3 hrs.)
 Important works of prose and poetry selected to illustrate certain aspects of Roman civilization. Reading and lectures on the archeological remains which throw light on the social, political, and religious background of the literature.
Miss Robathan

106. MEDIEVAL LATIN (6 hrs.)
 Readings from Latin writers in the fields of literature, history, and philosophy of the Middle Ages, including Cassiodorus, Gregory the Great, Bede, Geoffrey of Monmouth, Erasmus, Abelard, the chroniclers of the Crusades, the romancers of the Gesta Romanorum, religious drama, songs of the Goliards, and church hymns. Only so much attention given to linguistic study as the reading requires.

* It will be the privilege of students in grade III courses to have access to the manuscripts and early—often contemporary—editions of Italian authors contained in the Frances Pearsons Plimpton Collection in the college library.

Prerequisite, two or three admission units of Latin, or 102. (Not given in 1958-59.)
Miss Goodfellow

201. LATIN LITERATURE OF THE REPUBLIC AND EARLY EMPIRE (6 hrs.)

Reading of the first semester drawn from a variety of types and authors: the lyrics of Catullus, a comedy of Plautus or Terence, and an essay of Cicero; the second semester largely devoted to the Odes of Horace. Prerequisite, four admission units of Latin or 106; or three units including one of Vergil.

Miss Robathan

206. COMPOSITION (2 hrs.)

Studies in syntax and the writing of Latin prose. Prerequisite, 103 or 106 or 201.

Miss Robathan

211 (1). LUCRETIOUS (3 hrs.)

Reading from the De Rerum Natura, the poetry and philosophy of Epicureanism. Prerequisite, 103 or 201.

Miss Goodfellow

212 (2). IDEALS OF EARLY ROME (3 hrs.)

Selections from the authors of the Golden Age, especially Livy, Cicero, and Ovid, correlated with the student's earlier reading of Vergil and Horace. Reading to vary from year to year depending upon the themes selected for emphasis. Prerequisite, 103 or 201.

Miss Goodfellow

302 (1). SATIRE. HORACE AND JUVENAL (3 hrs.)

The origin and development of satire as a literary form. Special emphasis upon the satires of Horace and Juvenal. Prerequisite, 211 and 212.

Miss Robathan

303 (2). LATIN INSCRIPTIONS (3 hrs.)

Selected inscriptions studied both for form and content as sources for the study of Roman public and private life. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Miss Robathan

304 (1). TOPOGRAPHY AND MONUMENTS OF ROME (3 hrs.)

The physical development of the city as revealed by the archeologist. Some reading in Latin sources as background for the study of sites and monuments. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not given in 1958-59.)

Miss Robathan

305 (1). COMEDY. PLAUTUS AND TERENCE (3 hrs.)

Careful study of representative plays followed by the rapid reading of others. The sources of Latin comedy, its linguistic and literary features, and its influence upon later literature. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Miss Robathan

306 (2). STUDIES IN ROMAN RELIGION (3 hrs.)

The changing religious experience of the Republican period and of the early Empire; the influence of oriental cults. Readings from the sources, especially from Livy, Cicero, and Ovid. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Miss Taylor

- 309 (2). PROSE LITERATURE OF THE EARLY EMPIRE (3 hrs.)
 History: Livy, Tacitus, Suetonius, Velleius Paterculus. Reading based on choice of topics. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. Miss Goodfellow
- 311 (2). VERGIL (3 hrs.)
 The Eclogues, Georgics, Aeneid. The poet's achievement in the pastoral, didactic and heroic epic; studies in his literary inheritance from the Greek and his influence on later literature. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Taylor
- 312 (2). POETRY OF THE EMPIRE (3 hrs.)
 Elegy: Tibullus, Propertius, Ovid. Selections from representative poets of the later period. Prerequisite, 211 and 212. Miss Robathan
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)
 Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

The literature requirement in Group I may be met by electing from the following list of courses: 103, 105, 106, 201, 211, 212, 302, 305, 309, 311, 312.

Courses 102, 105, count for the degree but do not count toward a major in Latin.

Students intending to major in Latin are advised to take at least one course in Greek and History 303. Attention is also called to Art 201 and 209 and to courses in ancient philosophy.

Students who plan to teach Latin are strongly advised to elect at least six hours of grade III and Education 302.

Courses 303, 304, and 306 should in general be elected only in combination with courses in Latin literature.

Recommended students may elect an interdepartmental major in classical archeology (see page 48).

MATHEMATICS

Professors: MARION ELIZABETH STARK, PH.D. (Chairman); HELEN GERTRUDE RUSSELL, PH.D.

Assistant Professor: JACQUELINE PASCAL EVANS, PH.D.

Instructors: DOROTHY JEAN CHRISTENSEN, PH.D.; MARY ROBBINS HOOVER, M.S.

Students should consult the announcements of the departments of astronomy, chemistry, economics, philosophy, and physics for courses to which mathematics is either an absolute or an alternative prerequisite.

106. TRIGONOMETRY, ANALYTIC GEOMETRY, INTRODUCTION TO THE CALCULUS (6 hrs.)

Plane trigonometry, plane analytic geometry, elementary differentiation and integration with applications. Prerequisite, three admission units in mathematics.

Miss Russell, Miss Evans, Mrs. Hoover

107. ANALYTIC GEOMETRY, INTRODUCTION TO THE CALCULUS (6 hrs.)

Similar to 106, but with additional topics and applications connected with analytic geometry and elementary calculus. Prerequisite, three admission units in mathematics and a substantial course in trigonometry.

Miss Stark, Miss Russell, Miss Christensen

202. DIFFERENTIAL AND INTEGRAL CALCULUS (6 hrs.)
 A study of the derivative and the integral including geometric and physical interpretations. Prerequisite, 106 or 107.
Miss Russell, Miss Evans, Miss Christensen
- 205 (1).^{*} INTRODUCTION TO MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS (3 hrs.)
 Fundamental statistical methods, with special emphasis on the use of elementary mathematics and calculus in the development of theory and in practice. Assigned laboratory work included. Prerequisite or corequisite, 202.
Miss Stark
- 206 (1).^{*} DESCRIPTIVE GEOMETRY (3 hrs.)
 Theory underlying architectural and engineering drawing. Problems involving the use of two or more planes of projection in representing points, lines, and planes. Revolution applied to measurement. Prerequisite or corequisite, 202. Knowledge of solid geometry and consultation with the instructor on this subject required of students electing this course. Two periods of lecture or discussion with two laboratory periods. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Miss Stark
302. FUNCTIONS OF A REAL VARIABLE (6 hrs.)
 Continuity and other properties of functions, convergence of series, point-set theory, infinite integrals, Fourier series, and other allied subjects. Prerequisite, 202.
Miss Stark
- 303 (1).[†] DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS (3 hrs.)
 An introductory course in ordinary differential equations. Prerequisite, 202.
Miss Christensen
- 304 (2).^{*} INTRODUCTION TO MODERN ALGEBRAIC THEORY (3 hrs.)
 Topics in algebraic theory which are of importance in the study of geometry and analysis as well as in the development of higher algebra. Prerequisite, 202. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
Miss Russell
308. FUNCTIONS OF A COMPLEX VARIABLE (6 hrs.)
 Elementary treatment of analytic functions. Infinite series, transformations, and conformal mapping. Prerequisite, 302.
Miss Evans
- 309 (2).^{*} PROJECTIVE GEOMETRY (3 hrs.)
 Concepts and theorems of projective geometry developed by both synthetic and analytic methods. Prerequisite, 202.
Miss Christensen
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)
 Open to seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A major must include at least 12 hours of grade III in mathematics.

Only those students who have completed satisfactorily at least six hours of grade III in mathematics will be recommended as teachers of mathematics.

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

[†] Astronomy 300, Physics 304, Physics 308 may be counted toward a major in mathematics. Physics 308 must be preceded by Mathematics 303.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

An examination for exemption from a course in mathematics to satisfy partially the distribution requirement in Group III will be offered to students who have been unusually well prepared in algebra, trigonometry, analytic geometry, and the elements of differentiation and integration.

Students desiring to enter directly into grade II work may either apply for the exemption examination or give evidence of having completed the work in secondary school in a satisfactory manner.

MUSIC

Professors: HOWARD HINNERS, B.A.; HUBERT WELDON LAMB, B.A. (Chairman)

Instructor: HOWARD MAYER BROWN, M.A.

Teaching Assistant: CYNTHIA LEE ADAMS, M.A.T.

Lecturers: WILLIAM A. HERRMANN, JR., M.A. (Director of the Choir); ALLEN DWIGHT SAPP, JR., M.A.; NICHOLAS VAN SLYCK,⁴ M.A.

Instructors in Practical Music: DAVID BARNETT, B.A., MUS.D. (Hon.) (Piano); ALFRED ZIGHERA (Cello); MELVILLE SMITH, B.A. (Organ); KLAUS GOETZE (Piano); RUTH POSSELT BURGIN (Violin); MARGARET TORBERT DUESENBERY,⁵ M.A. (Violin and Director of Chamber Music); JAMES PAPPOTSAKIS (Flute); FRANK COCHRAN TAYLOR II, B.A. (Organ); ELEANOR MIRIAM DAVIS, M.MUS. (Voice); CHESTER WHELDON WILLIAMS,⁴ M.A. (Director of Chamber Music)

101. FUNDAMENTALS AND ELEMENTARY ANALYSIS (6 hrs.)

Notation, modes, intervals, chords. Analytical study of the elements of music. Introduction to the principles of harmony as exemplified in the forms of the classical period. Drill in ear training, sight singing, clef reading, and transposition. Open to all undergraduates. Three periods, one lecture and two section meetings.

Mr. Sapp

103. INTRODUCTION TO MUSICAL LITERATURE (6 hrs.)

An historical survey course designed to develop the student's musical understanding, insight, and powers of observation through the study of music of various styles and periods. No previous knowledge of music required. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors who have taken no other course in the department, and to qualified freshmen by permission of the chairman. Not to be counted toward a major. Two periods of lecture and one section meeting.

Mr. Herrmann, Miss Adams

201. ELEMENTARY HARMONY (6 hrs.)

Triads and their inversions, secondary dominants, modulation, and non-harmonic tones. Harmonization of melodies and unfigured basses. Upon recommendation of the instructor, qualified students in 201 will be permitted, during the second semester, to accelerate and thus to achieve advanced standing in the harmony sequence (201-310). Open to students who have taken 101 or who have been exempted from it on the basis of the test in fundamentals. Sufficient facility at the keyboard to play hymn tunes at sight is required. Three periods.

Mr. Hinnners

⁴ Appointed for the first semester only.

⁵ Appointed for the second semester only.

202. DEVELOPMENT OF MUSIC FROM 1600 TO THE PRESENT (6 hrs.)
 A survey of materials and methods. Open to students who have taken 101 or who have been exempted from it on the basis of the test in fundamentals. Three periods of lecture and conference. Mr. Brown
- 209 (1). THE CLASSICAL PERIOD (3 hrs.)
 The development of the classical sonata, string quartet, symphony, and concerto. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Not to be counted toward a major. Mr. Sapp
- 210 (2). THE ROMANTIC PERIOD (3 hrs.)
 Study of the larger forms of the 19th century through analysis of selected works. Prerequisite, 101 or 103. Not to be counted toward a major. Mr. Sapp
- 214 (2). THE TWENTIETH CENTURY (3 hrs.)
 An introduction to contemporary music through analysis of representative compositions. Prerequisite, 200 or 209. Not to be counted toward a major. Mr. Brown
300. DESIGN IN MUSIC (6 hrs.)
 Detailed analysis of representative works illustrating the evolution of forms and structural procedures in the music of the 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. Main emphasis on the period from Bach through Beethoven. Prerequisite, 200 or 202 or 201 or 301. Three periods. Mr. Hinners
301. COUNTERPOINT (6 hrs.)
 The principles of two- and three-part writing. Composition in small forms. Analysis. Prerequisite, 201 or by permission. Mr. Lamb, Mr. Van Slyck
- 303 (1). THE MIDDLE AGES AND THE RENAISSANCE (3 hrs.)
 The development of music to 1600. Prerequisite, 202. (Not offered in 1958-59.) Mr. Brown
- 305 (1). THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY (3 hrs.)
 A study of the musical traditions associated with the Renaissance. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 200 or 201. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
- 306 (1). THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY (3 hrs.)
 Studies in baroque style. The basso continuo and concertato traditions. Rise of dramatic music. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken six hours of grade II. Mr. Brown
- 307 (2). THE OPERA (3 hrs.)
 A study of operatic forms, styles, and traditions from the time of Mozart to the present. Prerequisite, same as for 306. Mr. Herrmann
- 309 (2). BACH (3 hrs.)
 The style of J. S. Bach and its place in the history of music. Analysis of selected vocal and instrumental works. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken either 200 or 202 and one of the following: 201, 300 or 301. Mr. Brown
310. ADVANCED HARMONY (6 hrs.)
 Dominant sevenths, complete and incomplete dominant ninths, the augmented sixth chords and secondary sevenths. Prerequisite, 201. Mr. Hinners

- 311 (1). ADVANCED HARMONY (3 hrs.)
 Accelerated course. Open only to students who have achieved advanced standing in the harmony sequence by completing successfully the accelerated program offered in 201 in the second semester. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
 Mr. Hinnert
- 318 (1). SEMINAR. BEETHOVEN (3 hrs.)
 The development of the style of Beethoven to its culmination in the Ninth Symphony, the Missa Solemnis, and the last quartets. Prerequisite, same as for 309.
 Mr. Lamb
- 319 (1). THE NINETEENTH CENTURY (3 hrs.)
 A study of the principal styles of the romantic period. Prerequisite, same as for 309.
 Mr. Brown
- 325 (2). SEMINAR. STRAVINSKY (3 hrs.)
 A study of the more important works and of their place in the music of the 20th century. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 200 or 201.
 Mr. Lamb
350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)
 Directed study in theory, orchestration, composition, or the history of music. Open to seniors by permission.

PRACTICAL MUSIC (INSTRUMENTAL AND VOCAL LESSONS)*

Instruction is provided in piano, organ, violin, violoncello, and voice, and arrangements may be made for private instruction in other instruments. Though no academic credit is given for such study, the department strongly recommends it as a complement to the course work in music. Students in piano who wish to do so may supplement their private lessons with group study which is available to them without additional charge as part of the piano course. Advanced students of string instruments or piano are eligible, also without additional charge, for group instruction in the performance of chamber music.

Candidates for the B.A. degree may take practical music provided they take or have already taken a course in the theory of music. Courses in the literature of music may serve as corequisites or prerequisites to practical music for students who pass a qualifying test in music fundamentals. Practical music is an elective, and students wishing to take it should notify the department in accordance with the procedure required for the election of an academic course.

Instruction in practical music is available to graduates of Wellesley College and to residents of the town of Wellesley by special arrangement.

Practical music study is normally undertaken on a yearly basis, though with the permission of the chairman of the department it may be elected for a single semester only. Students whose work proves unsatisfactory may be required to discontinue their lessons.

The College subscribes for eight seats in the Saturday series of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Tickets for these concerts are available at cost, and students taking music courses are given preference in the use of them.

* Students who elect practical music are charged at the rate of $115.00 for a half-hour lesson per week throughout the year. The charge for the use of a practice studio is $20.00 per year for one period daily. The charge for a daily period of organ practice is $30.00. Practical music fees are payable in advance by semesters, and are not subject to return or reduction except upon recommendation of both the Dean of Students and the department chairman.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

For a 24 hour major, the following courses are required: 101, 200 or 202, 303 or 305, and 325. Six additional hours of theory (201 or 301) are strongly recommended as supplementary to this sequence.

For a 30 hour major, the following are required: 200 or 202, 201, 301, 303 or 305, 325, and either 310 or six hours of grade III in which 311 is included.

Students preparing for graduate study, teaching, or other professional work in music should take this sequence. It is also recommended to those who are interested in intensive study of the technical aspects of music.

Suggested correlative subjects for students majoring in music: European history, literature, art.

Students proposing after graduation to continue into musicology should note that a reading knowledge of both German and French is essential for work in that field, and that in addition a certain proficiency in Italian and in Latin is highly desirable.

PRELIMINARY TEST IN FUNDAMENTALS

In the fall prior to the opening of classes, the department requires all students who elect a first course in music other than 103 to take a short test in fundamentals. The results of this test will be used as a basis for placement in sections of 101 and to admit students of sufficient advancement to grade II courses.

PHILOSOPHY

Professor: VIRGINIA ONDERDONK, B.A. (Chairman)

Associate Professor: ELLEN STONE HARING,¹ M.A.

Assistant Professors: NATHANIEL ROE, PH.D.; LILLIAN WOODWORTH AIKEN, PH.D.

Instructors: INGRID HESS STADLER, M.A.; AMY MORRISSEY KLEPPNER, M.A.; RICHARD MCKAY RORTY, PH.D.

101 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO CLASSICAL PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

A study of the writings of Plato and Aristotle in order to investigate the nature of philosophical inquiry and to examine theories fundamental in Western thought; i.e., of the universe, man, society. Open to all undergraduates.

The Staff

104 (1), (2). INTRODUCTION TO MORAL PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

An examination of some outstanding moral theories, discussion to include such topics as the good, the right, freedom, moral obligation. Open to freshmen who have taken 101, and to others without prerequisite.

The Staff

105 (2). TRENDS IN RECENT PHILOSOPHY (3 hrs.)

A study of modern theories such as pragmatism, positivism, analytic philosophy, evolutionism, existentialism. Open to sophomores who have taken 101 or 104, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

The Staff

201 (2). FURTHER STUDIES IN PLATO AND ARISTOTLE (3 hrs.)

A comparative study of the two decisive originators of Western philosophy, with emphasis upon their theories of knowledge and being. The reading will include the Symposium, Meno, and Theatetus, and selections from the Analytics, Physics, and Metaphysics. Prerequisite, 101.

Mr. Roe

- 203 (1). AESTHETICS (3 hrs.)
 A study of some classical and contemporary philosophies of art and beauty, emphasizing the nature and function of works of art. Open to sophomores who have taken a course in the department and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Mrs. Stadler
- 206 (2). ETHICAL THEORY (3 hrs.)
 A systematic study, stressing contemporary works in ethics, of the problems of the meaning and justification of moral judgments and the nature of moral reasoning. Open to students who have taken one course in the department.
Mrs. Aiken
- 211 (1). PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION (3 hrs.)
 A philosophical examination of basic problems regarding the nature and grounds of religious belief, the existence of God, freedom of the will, evil. Open to juniors and seniors.
Mr. Rorty
214. STUDIES IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN PHILOSOPHY (6 hrs.)
 A study of important European philosophies from Descartes to Nietzsche designed to give students a knowledge of the chief philosophical systems and to provide some philosophical background for the understanding of related movements in literature and the natural and social sciences. Prerequisite, same as for 203.
Miss Onderdonk, Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Stadler, Mr. Rorty
- 216 (1). FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF LOGIC (3 hrs.)
 A study of the forms of valid reasoning with emphasis on the analysis and symbolic formulation of ordinary English sentences and the deduction of simple conclusions. Some discussion of such notions as implication, proof, consistency, definition, postulate. Open to sophomores who have taken a course in philosophy or mathematics, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.
Miss Onderdonk
- 217 (2). INDUCTIVE LOGIC (3 hrs.)
 An examination of the logical problems of formulating and verifying theories in the observational and experimental sciences. Open to sophomores who have taken 105, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. (Not offered in 1958-59.)
Mr. Roe
- 218.* HISTORY OF SCIENCE (6 hrs.)
 For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 218.
- 306 (2). ADVANCED LOGIC (3 hrs.)
 A study of modern developments of logic including a discussion of the nature of a deductive system, the logic of classes, and the calculus of propositions. Prerequisite, 216.
Miss Onderdonk
- 311 (2). KANT (3 hrs.)
 An intensive study of the philosophy of Kant, with some consideration of Kant's position in the history of philosophy. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 214.
Mr. Rorty

* Counts as related work but not as part of a major in philosophy.

321 (1). SEMINAR. THEORIES OF KNOWLEDGE (3 hrs.)

An inquiry into the nature of knowledge and truth. Readings chosen primarily from contemporary material. Prerequisite, 214, or 216, and 217.

Mr. Roe

322 (2). SEMINAR. METAPHYSICS (3 hrs.)

An examination of theories about the ultimate constituents of reality, focusing on Whitehead's system but with some reference to other philosophies. Prerequisite, 214.

Mrs. Aiken

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY (3 or 6 hrs.)

Open to seniors by permission.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

To meet the distribution requirement for a year's work in philosophy, students should elect 101 and either 104 or 105; or one of these courses followed by 206; or 214.

A major in philosophy must include 201, 214, and six hours of grade III work in the department.

All majors are urged to take a course in psychology, and are advised that a knowledge of Greek or French or German is desirable. Those planning to do graduate work are strongly urged to include 216 in their major.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Associate Professors: ELIZABETH BEALL, PH.D. (Chairman); KATHARINE FULLER WELLS, PH.D.; ELINOR MARIE SCHROEDER, PH.D.

Instructors: JULIA MAY BROWN, M.ED.; KATE ROSS BARRETT, B.S.; SHIRLEY MARIE MANS, B.S.; ROSEMARY MCLEMORE, M.ED.; BETTY WANDA BOARD, B.S.; EVELYN BOLDRICK HOWARD, M.S.; GEORGIA MAY HULAC, M.ED.

Registrar: MARION DOROTHY JAQUES, B.A.

Musician for the Dance: KATHRYN R. HODGSON

The Department of Physical Education, through its program adapted to individual needs and abilities, aims to help each student to build up sufficient strength and vitality to meet the demands of a normally active life; to appreciate and practice fundamental health habits; to develop good carriage, a sense of rhythm, coordination and motor judgment; to be a cooperative and contributing participant in group activity; and to acquire skills which will contribute to interest in wholesome forms of recreation.

Two hours a week of physical education activities are required for freshmen and sophomores. The activity program of each year is divided into four seasons: fall, winter (1), winter (2), spring.

Activity Requirement: The department requires that during their first two years at college students should take: (a) at least two seasons of individual sport (either the same or different sports); (b) at least one season of group activity (i.e. team sport, modern dance, synchronized swimming, or folk dance); (c) fundamentals of movement, during winter (1) of the freshman year.

A student's choice of activity is subject to approval of the department, on the basis of the results of the medical and physical examinations, and the student's previous experience.

Posture Requirement: Every student is expected to attain a satisfactory grade on her posture photographs. Enrollment in course 125 will be required for students who fail to have a satisfactory grade before the winter season of the sophomore year; also for students who fail in the spring of the sophomore year. Enrollment in this course is required until the standard is attained, or until the end of the winter season of the senior year. Freshmen who demonstrate good posture in the fall and spring photographs will not have to be photographed in the sophomore year.

121 and 122. ACTIVITIES

124 and 125. POSTURE AND BODY MECHANICS

Recommended for freshmen and sophomores whose orthopedic or medical condition indicates the need of individually planned exercise. Two periods a week; Sophomores: winter (1) or (2); Freshmen: winter (2), with 121 and 122 fall and spring. Miss Wells

127 and 128. TECHNIQUE OF TEACHING ACTIVITIES OR OF OFFICIATING

Recommended for students planning to assist in teaching in a summer camp, playground, social service agency, or recreation center. Choice of the following: Winter (1-2): Basketball officiating. Spring: Archery, canoeing, tennis. First Semester: Modern dance, senior life saving. Second Semester: Camp leadership, rhythmic activities for children, senior life saving, water safety instructors. Any of these courses may be substituted for part of the activity requirement except by freshmen during Winter (1). Prerequisite, basic skills in the particular activity and permission of the instructor. Permission of the class dean is required for water safety instructors' course which meets three periods a week. The Staff

131 and 132. MODIFIED ACTIVITIES

Choice of the following: Fall: Archery, canoeing, golf, swimming, tennis, volleyball. Winter (1): Freshmen: Modified fundamentals of movement. Sophomores: Badminton, fencing, swimming, recreational activities. Winter (2): Badminton, fencing, folk dance, swimming, recreational activities. Spring: Archery, canoeing, golf, swimming, tennis, volleyball. Required of freshmen and sophomores whose physical condition indicates the need of modified activities. Two hours a week. The Staff

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

Students (including juniors and seniors) and also faculty may elect with the permission of the department any of the activities listed under 121, 122, 124, 125, 127, 128, 131, and 132.

PHYSICS

Professor: DOROTHY HEYWORTH, PH.D. (Chairman)
Associate Professor: JANET BROWN GUERNSEY, PH.D.
Assistant Professor: PHYLLIS JANE FLEMING, PH.D.
Assistant: MARY MOLLOY MARTIN, B.A.

101. ELEMENTARY PHYSICS (6 hrs.)

Designed to give an intelligent understanding of man's physical environment and the everyday applications of the fundamental laws of mechanics, heat, electricity, sound, and light. Open to students who do not offer physics for admission. Two periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Heyworth, Mrs. Martin

104. ELEMENTARY PHYSICS (6 hrs.)

The same topics as in course 101, but with greater emphasis upon the mathematical development of the subject. Open to students who do not offer physics for admission. Prerequisite, three admission units in mathematics. Two periods of lecture and discussion with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Heyworth, Miss Fleming, Mrs. Martin

105 (1). FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF PHYSICS (3 hrs.)

Selected topics in mechanics; wave motion and its applications in sound and light; current electricity. Open to students who offer physics for admission. Two periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Guernsey, Mrs. Martin

106. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 106. This course will, by special arrangement, serve as prerequisite for grade II courses in physics.

200 (2). MODERN PHYSICS (3 hrs.)

Introduction to the kinetic theory of gases. Waves and particles; atomic and nuclear structure. Optical and X-ray spectra; the periodic table of elements. Radioactive decay. Prerequisite, 101, 104, 105, or exemption from 105. Two periods of lecture and discussion with laboratory work.

Miss Fleming

201 (1). ELECTRICITY (3 hrs.)

Direct and alternating current phenomena. Methods of measurement; general circuit theory. Prerequisite, 101, 104, 105, or exemption from 105. Additional prerequisite or corequisite, Mathematics 106 or 107. Two periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Miss Fleming

206 (2). ELECTRONICS (3 hrs.)

Fundamentals of electron flow in vacuum and gas tubes. The vacuum tube as a circuit element; application to power supplies, amplifiers, oscillators and modulators. Introduction to non-linear electronic devices. Prerequisite, 201. Two periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Guernsey

301 (1). OPTICS (3 hrs.)

Wave theory and its application to phenomena of interference, diffraction, double refraction, polarization, and dispersion; theory and use of optical instruments; nature of light sources. Prerequisite, Mathematics 106 or 107, and three hours of grade II in physics, or six hours of grade I in physics and in astronomy. Two periods of lecture and discussion, with one three-period laboratory appointment.

Mrs. Guernsey

303 (2). NUCLEAR PHYSICS (3 hrs.)

Static properties of atomic nuclei. Properties of charged particles, neutrons, and gamma rays; their interactions with matter. Natural and artificial radioactivity. Nuclear reactions. Prerequisite, 200 or its equivalent.

Mrs. Guernsey

304 (1).^{*} ELECTROMAGNETIC THEORY (3 hrs.)

Fundamental theory of electric and magnetic fields, with an introduction to the methods of vector analysis; development of Maxwell's equations and the properties of electromagnetic waves and radiation. Prerequisite, 201 and Mathematics 202. Miss Fleming

308 (2).^{*} MECHANICS AND THERMODYNAMICS (3 hrs.)

Mathematical treatment of fundamental principles of mechanics and thermodynamics. Prerequisite, 101, 104, 105, or exemption from 105; Mathematics 202. Miss Heyworth

Not more than 12 hours of grade II work may be counted within the minimum number of hours for the B.A. degree, and three to six hours of grade I work, with no duplication permitted at the grade I level. Students may elect for credit either 101, 102, or 103 and 12 hours of grade II work.

All freshmen and transfer students are required to attend an individual conference at which a diagnostic test and an analysis of the student's speech, voice, and ability to communicate orally will be made. For those who would benefit by instruction, the most helpful course or courses will be suggested; for those who do not wish to elect a course, individual or small group conferences will be recommended. If any student has a genuine disability, Speech Conference or a course will be required.

SPEECH CONFERENCE

(No credit)

Mrs. Miller, Miss Clasz

101. FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH: YEAR COURSE (6 hrs.)

Analysis of individual problems in oral communication through lecture, discussion, oral participation. Attention given to voice and articulation through oral interpretation of prose, poetry and drama, and to public speaking. Especially recommended for students needing concentrated study in oral communication or interested in speech arts. Open to students who have not taken 102 or 103.

Mrs. Miller

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

102 (2). FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH: SEMESTER COURSE (3 hrs.)

A shorter course employing the same methods of instruction and some of the materials used in 101. Open to students who have not taken 101 or 103.

Mrs. Miller

103 (1). SPEAKING AND DISCUSSION (3 hrs.)

A study of the forms used in speaking: description, narration, explanation, persuasion. Practice in organizing ideas for oral discussion. Open to students who have not taken 101 or 102.

Mrs. Miller

202 (2). PUBLIC SPEAKING (3 hrs.)

Emphasis on analysis and criticism of types of speeches. Practice in speech making, round table, panel discussion, debate, and open forum. Open to freshmen and sophomores who have taken 101, 102, or 103, or by permission, and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite.

Mrs. Miller

205 (2). SHAKESPEAREAN THEATRE (3 hrs.)

Study of production of Shakespeare's plays in the theatre; particular attention to Elizabethan stagecraft and to contemporary production styles; emphasis on acting and directing. Reports, and scenes performed for class criticism. Prerequisite, same as for 202, or English 215, or by permission.

Mr. Barstow

208 (1). MODERN THEATRE (3 hrs.)

Study of innovations in theatrical form and staging developing from the "new" theatre of Ibsen and his successors; revolution and development in 20th century theory and practice as exemplified in the works of representative playwrights. Reports, and scenes performed for class criticism. Prerequisite, same as for 202, or by permission.

Mr. Barstow

209. PRINCIPLES OF THEATRE ART (6 hrs.)

Historical and critical study of the development and practice of the theatre arts. Dramatic literature in relation to the play in performance. Historical periods and styles; staging and design; primary emphasis on acting and directing. Reports, and scenes performed for class criticism. Prerequisite, same as for 208.

Mr. Barstow

ZOOLOGY AND PHYSIOLOGY

Professors: HARRIET CUTLER WATERMAN, PH.D.; GLADYS KATHRYN McCOSH, PH.D.; EVA ELIZABETH JONES, PH.D.; MARY LELLAH AUSTIN, PH.D.; LOUISE PALMER WILSON, PH.D. (Chairman)

Assistant Professor: ALICE LOUISE BULL, PH.D.

Graduate Assistants: JANE ELLEN BARKER, B.A.; GINNA KAREN BRYANT, B.A.; MARY LOUISE LENNON, B.A.

Lecturers: MARGARET ELLIOTT HOUCK, M.S., CURATOR OF THE MUSEUM; VIRGINIA MAYO FISKE, PH.D.

Custodian: FRANCES KNIBBS FOLSOM

101. THE BIOLOGY OF ANIMALS (6 hrs.)

A course designed to give an intelligent understanding of animal life and of the place of man in the world of living things, of what an animal is and of evolutionary sequences as provided by study of a series of forms of increasing complexity from one-celled animals through vertebrates. Lectures and discussions on evidences and factors of evolution and on heredity. Open to all undergraduates, except those who have taken 102 or 103. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory. Miss McCosh, Miss Austin, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Fiske

102. PRINCIPLES OF ZOOLOGY (6 hrs.)

A course designed for students who already have some scientific knowledge of animal life. A consideration of important biological principles and of man's place in nature based on a study of invertebrate and vertebrate animals. In the second semester, special emphasis on evolution and heredity. Recommended for students who have offered for admission a course in biology largely on animals which included careful dissection of several forms. Open by permission of the Dean of Freshmen. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Miss Bull

103. AN INTRODUCTORY COURSE IN BIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

For description and prerequisite, see Interdepartmental 103.

202 (1), (2). BASIC VERTEBRATE ANATOMY (3 hrs.)

The fundamental morphology of vertebrates, illustrated by some laboratory studies of the dogfish and a thorough dissection of the cat. Open to sophomores who have taken 101, 102, or 103 and to juniors and seniors without prerequisite. Not to be elected by premedical students. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Miss Waterman

203. COMPARATIVE VERTEBRATE ANATOMY (6 hrs.)

The comparative morphology of vertebrates, with emphasis on evolutionary changes leading from the structures of primitive fishes to those of the human body. Thorough dissection of dogfish, necturus, and cat included in laboratory work. Prerequisite, same as for 202. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Miss Waterman

204 (1). INTRODUCTORY ANIMAL ECOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Animals in their natural surroundings. Their behavior, life histories, relationship to their environment and to each other. Economic and medical significance of ecological knowledge. Field studies of animal communities in nearby ponds, meadows, and woodlands. Prerequisite, same as for 202. Five periods of lecture, discussion and work in the field or laboratory.

Miss McCosh

301 (2). ADVANCED ANIMAL ECOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Selected topics dealing with such subjects as zoogeography, factors affecting natural populations, social behavior, navigation and migration of animals, conservation of wildlife. Special consideration of social insects, amphibians, birds, and mammals. Prerequisite, 204 or by permission. Five periods of lecture, discussion and work in the field or laboratory.

Miss McCosh

303 (1). HISTOLOGY AND HISTOLOGICAL TECHNIQUE (3 hrs.)

A study of the microscopic structure of tissues and organs. Emphasis on the relation of structure and function. Some training in preparation of tissues for microscopic study. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 202, 203, 204 or 308. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Miss Jones, Miss Bull

304 (2). EMBRYOLOGY (3 hrs.)

The development of an individual from its origin as a fertilized egg through the formation of the principal organs and systems. Laboratory work chiefly on the chick and the pig. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken or are taking 202, 203, 204, or 308 and to sophomores who have taken 202 or 204. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Miss Jones

305 (1). SEMINAR. DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN ZOOLOGY (3 hrs.)

A study of the evolution of modern zoology from its early beginnings in representative periods of the past. Problems in several present-day fields of investigation used to illustrate certain trends in modern biological research. Open to juniors and seniors who have taken 12 hours in the department, and to others by permission.

Miss Jones

306 (1). GENETICS (3 hrs.)

The principles of heredity, based on the cytological and genetical evidence found in animals; the application of these principles to human inheritance. Class work supplemented by a few breeding tests with Drosophila. Prerequisite, same as for 305. Three periods.

Miss Austin

308. PHYSIOLOGY (6 hrs.)

A study of general physiological processes. Simple physical and chemical studies of living matter. Observations of more complex physiological processes: nutrition, circulation, respiration, excretion, nerve-muscle response, reproduction, endocrine activities. Prerequisite, one course in the department and Chemistry 101 or 103. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Fiske

310 (2). ADVANCED HISTOLOGY (3 hrs.)

Study of organs not included in 303. Individual problems and reports on histological research. Prerequisite, 303. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Miss Jones

312 (2).^{*} PHYSIOLOGY OF NUTRITION (3 hrs.)

A study of the foods necessary for the normal functioning of the body and the physiological processes by means of which they are utilized for growth, repair, and release of energy. Normal and faulty nutrition compared by feeding experiments with animals. Prerequisite, or corequisite, 308. Chemistry 301 recommended, but not required, as a prerequisite. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory.

Mrs. Wilson

316 (2).^{*} PHYSIOLOGY OF THE ENDOCRINE GLANDS (3 hrs.)

The chemical control of the animal organism through the secretions of the endocrine glands. Individual problems. Prerequisite or corequisite, 308. Five periods of lecture, discussion and laboratory. (Not offered in 1958-59.)

Mrs. Fiske

^{*} Offered in alternate years.

320 (2). SEMINAR

(3 hrs.)

Intensive study of one problem or a series of related problems. Critical study of experimental methods and analysis of results. Emphasis on source material. Subject for 1958-59: Recent advances in genetics. Open by permission to seniors majoring in zoology. Miss Austin

350. RESEARCH OR INDEPENDENT STUDY

(3 or 6 hrs.)

Open by permission to juniors and seniors.

DIRECTIONS FOR ELECTION

A knowledge of chemistry is required of all students taking work in physiology and is desirable for all students majoring in the department.

The department will admit properly qualified freshmen and sophomores to Zoology 202, 203, or 204 without examination but by special permission after consultation with the chairman of the department.

SCHOLARSHIP

A scholarship is open to undergraduates at the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole (or at a biological field station approved by the student's major department). Students should consult the chairman of the department before February 15.

PLACEMENT AND EXEMPTION EXAMINATIONS

The department will offer an examination for exemption from zoology as a distribution requirement to any student who offers for admission a year course, taken in either the junior or senior year and carried at a grade of B or better, and who presents an acceptable laboratory notebook when applying for the examination.

ADMISSION

ADMISSION OF FRESHMEN

Each spring eight members of the faculty and administration meet as the Board of Admission to select the incoming freshman class. They regard as essential for admission intellectual ability, interest in learning, good character and health. From the candidates who meet these essentials they try to select a class which will have a complementing variety of individual interests and will represent many different public and independent schools throughout the United States and abroad. The Board of Admission reserves the right to determine in all cases which candidates shall be admitted.

As evidence of a candidate's ability the Board considers her secondary school record, the recommendation of her school, information about her independent reading, her extracurricular and special interests, intelligence tests which she may have taken, and her record on the required College Board Entrance Examinations. In addition, each candidate must have an interview. This may be held at the College or in the home or school region of the candidate. If she plans to visit the College, she should arrange for an appointment considerably in advance to be sure that time is reserved. Otherwise, she should write to the Director of Admission for the name and address of the college interviewer in her region.

SECONDARY SCHOOL PREPARATION

In general, candidates are expected to complete a full four-year secondary school course. A sound program of studies in preparation for entrance to Wellesley College includes four years of English grammar, composition, and literature; Latin or Greek and a modern foreign language, one of the preceding carried, if possible, through at least a third year; one or more of the following fields of history: American, Ancient, Medieval, Modern European; three years of college preparatory mathematics; one or more laboratory sciences: biology, chemistry, physics. Electives may be offered in additional courses in the subjects listed above or in, for example, history or fundamentals of music, history or appreciation of art, or Biblical history. Admission credit is not given for courses in typewriting, although this skill is helpful to the college student and the Board of Admission urges candidates to learn to typewrite in secondary school or during a summer vacation.

The Director of Admission will comment on the suitability of the program of any candidate who wishes to submit it in advance of formal application for admission. She welcomes correspondence with students, their parents, and school advisers on any matter concerning admission to the College and welcomes information from schools about new courses and curricular plans. Because secondary school curricula vary widely, some candidates may be unable to study some of the subjects recommended for admission. Other candidates may be ready for college work before completion of four years of secondary school. The Board of Admission is glad to consider the applications of candidates whose school work differs in extent or in program from the normal preparation for college, provided that there is evidence of continuity and sound work in the study of basic subjects.

EARLY DECISION PLAN

This optional plan of admission is designed to give well qualified applicants, who by the end of the junior year in secondary school have made their choice of college, an opportunity to have a decision on their applications in December rather than in May.

Students are eligible for Early Decision who apply to Wellesley College and to no other college, who agree to file no other application until they receive a decision, and who agree to make a non-refundable deposit of $200 by February 15 if they are accepted and plan to enter. This deposit will be applied in equal portions to the first and second semester fees of the first year. All candidates for admission under this optional plan must complete a form entitled "Request for Early Decision" before October 1 of the senior year.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

Admission forms may be secured from the Director of Admission. A fee of fifteen dollars must accompany the formal application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted. Candidates must apply not later than February 1 of the year in which they plan to enter college. A student who wishes to apply under the Early Decision Plan should make application before October 1 of her senior year in high school. Early Decision Plan candidates will receive notices concerning admission in December; candidates applying under the regular admission plan will be notified in May. All accepted candidates will receive in May instructions for choosing their academic programs and their dormitory rooms.

Although an early application is not a factor in determining admission, it is one of the factors considered in assigning dormitory rooms to freshmen.

COLLEGE BOARD ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Candidates for admission to Wellesley must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test, both the verbal and mathematical sections, and three Achievement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. Among the three Achievement Tests they must take the test in English Composition and two others, to be chosen from foreign languages, social studies, science, and mathematics. They are advised to choose one test in a foreign language and one test in either social studies, mathematics, or a science. They may not offer the spatial relations test. Candidates under the regular plan must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test in January, and the Achievement Tests in March of their senior year in school. Early Decision Plan candidates must take both the Scholastic Aptitude and the three Achievement Tests during the junior year. They may take the Scholastic Aptitude Test in either March or May but must take the Achievement Tests in May. The August tests are unsuitable.

All College Board tests are designed to be taken without special preparation. Candidates applying under the regular plan who wish to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test for guidance purposes at the end of the junior year are encouraged to do so. In this case the College Entrance Examination Board should be asked to forward the results of the preliminary tests to the College. The Director of Admission can then give additional assistance to candidates who seek advice about their candidacy.

APPLICATION FOR THE COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMINATION BOARD TESTS

Each candidate for admission is responsible for making proper application to take the College Board tests and for having the results of the tests sent to the College.

Candidates living in states from Montana to New Mexico and west should send inquiries to the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 27896, Los Angeles 27, California. Candidates from all other states and candidates applying from foreign countries should send inquiries to the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. The College Board sends a copy of its Bulletin of Information to every candidate requesting an application blank.

Applications and fees should reach the College Board offices not later than the dates specified below:

Dates of Tests	Applications and Fees Due
January 10, 1959	December 13, 1958
February 14, 1959	January 24, 1959
March 14, 1959	February 14, 1959
May 16, 1959	April 18, 1959

FINANCIAL AID

Candidates who will require financial assistance in order to attend Wellesley should read carefully the information on pages 116-119.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT

Students who have taken advanced courses in secondary school and present records in the Advanced Placement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board which are acceptable to the College will be admitted to advanced courses in the freshman year. Although there is no automatic exemption from the required freshman English course, students who have taken the Advanced Placement Tests will receive special consideration for exemption from this requirement. A student who wishes to receive credit for the degree for an advanced course taken in secondary school should ask the Dean of Freshmen to make arrangements for an examination at Wellesley.

Other students, who have not participated in secondary school in the program of College Admission with Advanced Standing but are unusually well prepared for college work in certain subjects, should plan to enter advanced courses in the freshman year. Such students should write the Dean of Freshmen for advice about their electives and about examinations for advanced placement in cases in which an examination is necessary.

Examinations for exemption from certain requirements for the degree are described on page 29.

ADMISSION OF TRANSFER STUDENTS

If a student has maintained an excellent record in an accredited junior college, college, or university and has special interests which she wishes to follow at Wellesley, she may apply for admission to the sophomore or junior class. The number of students who can be admitted to these classes is small; only students with excellent records, who are entitled to honorable dismissal from the college which they have attended, and who are strongly recommended by their instructors and dean are encouraged to apply.

Application should be made to the Director of Admission as early as possible and in general not later than April 1 of the year in which admission is sought. The selection of students is made in May and in July of the year in which entrance is desired.

A candidate must present evidence that she has studied in school the subjects required for admission to the freshman class at Wellesley, and she must have achieved a satisfactory score on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. If she did not take the Scholastic Aptitude Test while in secondary school, she should make arrangements to do so. Information concerning this test may be obtained from the College Entrance Examination Board. (See pages 108-109.)

When requesting an application for admission, a candidate should send a statement setting forth her reasons for wanting to transfer to Wellesley, a transcript of her school and college records, and the names of her dean and two instructors who know her well. She should also arrange directly with the College Entrance Examination Board to send to the Director of Admission her scores on all College Board tests which she has taken. No application will be registered until all of this material has been received by the Director of Admission. Admission forms will be sent to those candidates who can be encouraged to file a formal application. A fee of fifteen dollars must accompany the application. This fee is not refunded if a candidate withdraws her application or is not admitted. The Board of Admission reserves the right in all cases to determine which candidates shall be admitted.

Credit for courses completed at another college is tentatively granted early in the first year of residence at Wellesley, but determination of credit, which depends upon the quality of the student's work at Wellesley, is not made until the end of the year.

READMISSION

A student who has withdrawn from the College is not automatically re-admitted. She should make application for readmission to the Secretary of the Committee on Student Records. A non-refundable fee of fifteen dollars must accompany the application.

ADMISSION OF FOREIGN STUDENTS

Students living in foreign countries who wish to enter Wellesley College are asked to make application well before February 1 of the year in which they wish to enter college. The application should be accompanied by a letter from the student giving her reasons for wishing to study in the United States and a detailed statement of her previous educational experience or a transcript of her record. Inquiries concerning admission and scholarships should be sent to the Foreign Student Adviser.

ADMISSION OF GRADUATE STUDENTS

Wellesley accepts a limited number of candidates for the degree of Master of Arts. A summary of requirements for the Master's degree appears on page 33. Interested students should write to the Chairman of the Committee on Graduate Instruction.

GENERAL INFORMATION AND REGULATIONS

REGISTRATION

Each student must register in her residence hall at the beginning of each college year. The time of registration is stated in the calendar on page 6.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

Entering students come into residence two days before most upperclassmen. During this period they meet their class dean, other officers of the College, and some upperclassmen who answer their questions and help them to become acquainted with the activities and traditions of the College. They visit the library, take physical examinations and appropriate placement tests, and have opportunity to consult their deans should changes in their programs of study seem advisable. Special events of various types are scheduled for entering students during their first week at Wellesley.

ADVISING OF STUDENTS

Class deans are the interpreters to students of the academic and other policies of the College and are ready to discuss informally with individual members of their classes any academic or personal problem which the student may have. The deans are officers of the College and members of the faculty who are relieved of some of their teaching duties. They keep in touch with the faculty, heads of house, doctors, and student leaders in order to help establish sound policies for the life of the community and to be of maximum service to individual students.

During the first two years when students are becoming acquainted with the faculty and with one another, each class has a continuing dean. The Dean of Students aided by faculty advisers serves as class dean for juniors and seniors. Students are invited to turn to the deans both for immediate help and for information about specialized services, because the deans are the persons who know best all of the resources which the College has to assist the student in her academic, personal, religious, health, and employment interests.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

Each student is given full responsibility for her attendance at classes and for the timely preparation of her work. In case of illness or other difficulty she should consult her dean for assistance in making special arrangements for her studies.

The student is expected to prepare all her work with integrity and to abide scrupulously by the regulations of the faculty concerning academic work. The College attaches major importance to this. A student who finds herself in doubt as to a proper method or course of action should consult her instructor or dean immediately.

The record of any student whose work falls below the expected quality is reviewed by a committee of the faculty. The student is warned and every effort is made to assist her to improve the quality of her work. Because of the selective policies of admission, exclusion for academic weakness rarely occurs if a student has made consistent effort to meet the requirements.

RULES OF RESIDENCE

Wellesley maintains fourteen residence halls. Students in proportionate numbers from all four classes live in the twelve large halls, each of which has its own living rooms and dining room. Approximately one hundred freshmen live in the two smallest dormitories and share a nearby dining hall. Each hall has a Resident Head, interested in the welfare of the individual student, who with the students in her house seeks to create an environment which invites study and intellectual discussion as well as relaxation and entertainment of friends. Residence in college halls is required of all unmarried undergraduate students except those who live with their parents near the College.

Ordinarily married students may not live in residence, because the College believes that women should postpone marriage until they are ready to establish their own homes. If a married student can commute from her own home, she may register as a non-resident student. In an exceptional case, and if permission to live in the College has been requested and received from the Dean of Students considerably in advance of the marriage, a married student may live in residence.

Rooms are assigned to entering students by the Director of Residence and the class dean, who seek to maintain in each hall representative regional diversity and to consider individual preferences in the order of dates of application for admission. Regulations for moving from one hall to another at the end of the first and second years may vary from time to time. When moves are made, they are determined by lot. Only juniors are promised in advance that if they wish they may continue in the same residence hall for the following year.

Respect for the residence standards and the property of the College is a requirement for continued residence. Each student receives a copy of the specific rules of residence to which she is expected to conform; these are established by College Government or, in areas of health and safety, by administrative decision. Because of high operating costs, each student is asked to care for her room and gives three to four hours a week to light housework, which is scheduled by student heads of work.

Rooms are equipped with essential furniture. Students are expected to furnish blankets and couch covers, and to furnish bed linen and towels or rent them from a supply company designated by the College. A list of permissible additions is sent to each entering student. It should be noted that the College accepts no responsibility for the safety of personal possessions of the student. She may leave her possessions at her own risk in her room or in storage areas designated by the College. Valuable items should be left at home or should be insured.

The College reserves the right to inspect any room at any time and to dispose of articles remaining unclaimed after due notice or after a student has left college, either by withdrawal or graduation.

In general, residence halls are closed during Christmas and spring vacations. One hall is kept open on a per diem basis for the convenience of students. A Resident Head is in charge of the vacation house.

HEALTH PROVISIONS

The College emphasizes preventive medicine. The services of the college physicians and psychiatrists are available to students without charge. Campus employees are examined by a college physician. Food is carefully selected by the college dietitian and prepared under her direction. Cleanliness in the residence halls is maintained by the cooperative efforts of College Government and administrative officers.

When a student is admitted to the infirmary as a bed patient, a routine notice is sent to her parents. Each resident student is allowed six free days in the infirmary each year when prescribed by a college physician, provided that no special service is required. Only three of the free days may be taken at any one time; thereafter an infirmary charge of seven dollars a day is made. Charges for special services are determined in the usual way, according to the type and amount of service rendered.

To supplement the free service, the College strongly recommends purchase of a group student health and accident insurance policy for which it has made arrangements. The insurance gives protection to the student over a twelve-month period whether or not in residence at the College. Information concerning it is sent to parents in the fall.

The college physicians give each entering student a physical examination and study carefully the health information which the College requests of parents and family physicians in connection with admission. This information helps the college physicians to decide whether the student should be placed in remedial or restricted physical activity in the department of Physical Education and may be useful should a student become ill. It also makes possible cooperation with home physicians in continuing necessary treatment. For these reasons the requested information should be complete and accurate; failure to supply full information initially may result later in exclusion from college. Many types of illness and disability are not insurmountable handicaps at Wellesley, but the College cannot supply special diets or encourage the entrance of students who find walking very difficult.

Cooperation with the college physician is a requirement of residence. A student in residence must notify a college physician before consulting a physician outside of the College or before leaving the campus for reasons of health. If she needs medical attention when away from the campus, she should inform her class dean immediately upon her return and take to the infirmary a statement signed by the attending physician.

The proximity of the College to Boston permits early consultation between college physicians and specialists whenever advisable. In case of serious illness parents are notified by telegram or telephone, but the College reserves the right to make decisions concerning operations and other health matters if parents cannot be reached at a time when decision seems imperative.

WITHDRAWAL AND EXCLUSION

A student who plans to withdraw must inform her class dean. The Recorder will then provide a withdrawal blank for the student's parents or guardian to sign. The official date of withdrawal is the date on which the signed blank is returned to the Recorder.

The College reserves the right to require the withdrawal at any time of a student whose academic work falls below its standards or who in the opinion of the college authorities should not remain at Wellesley. In the latter case no specific reason need be assigned.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Placement Office assists students and alumnae who are interested in employment opportunities. It helps students to obtain summer positions and part-time work in the winter and helps seniors and alumnae to locate positions upon graduation and later in their careers.

During the academic year caring for children provides the largest number of job opportunities. Within the College three exchanges dealing with furniture, books, and food afford regular work for a number of students. Agencies for newspapers, magazines, laundry, and dry cleaning yield substantial returns to some students. Clerical work and other positions are also available, but students are cautioned against depending upon employment during the academic year for any considerable income. Summer opportunities are varied and provide more remuneration.

Students and alumnae may consult the staff and use the vocational library of the Placement Office at any time for information and suggestions concerning present work opportunities and future career possibilities.

Lectures and discussions on occupations are arranged for students, and information is made available concerning training courses, apprenticeships, and graduate assistantships. Upon payment of a small fee a senior may register permanently with the Placement Office. The Office arranges interviews for registered students with employers who come to the College and informs senior and alumnae members of various openings; it collects credentials and thereafter keeps up-to-date the papers of each interested registrant to be sent to prospective employers and others upon request.

FINANCIAL AID

The endowment funds of the College for undergraduate scholarships amount to approximately $4,500,000. They include more than two hundred separately endowed funds, each of which bears the name of the donor or of a person whom he wished to honor, and also a large, general fund which supports many awards including the Pendleton Scholarships and the Seven College Scholarships, described below. Total annual awards usually amount to more than $315,000. Of this sum about $245,000 comes from income earned by the endowed scholarship funds of the College, appropriations from current income, and gifts made to the College by alumnae clubs and individuals. About $70,000 comes from endowed funds of the Wellesley Students' Aid Society and gifts to it from alumnae clubs and individuals. These resources make possible awards in the amount of their need to approximately twenty percent of the student body.

The Committee on Scholarships acts with power in the selection of holders of awards and in determination of the amount of each award. Financial aid is given only to students who require assistance in order to attend the College. The aid may take the form of a gift scholarship, a loan, or a work scholarship; usually it consists of a gift supplemented by a loan and/or work scholarship.

Preference among the accepted candidates for admission who require assistance is given to the students with the best admission credentials. The geographical area from which the applicant comes is also considered. For students in college, awards are reviewed annually and are renewed, provided they are needed, so long as the student maintains a good academic and civic record, except in the case of married students who are ineligible for financial aid. Ordinarily students who receive financial aid work during the summer in order to contribute to their expenses of the following year. Earnings vary with the type of employment, but in general the Committee on Scholarships estimates that a student can earn between $250 and $300 during the summer.

APPLICATION FOR FINANCIAL AID

In making awards to entering students, the Committee on Scholarships considers only those applicants who were registered candidates for admission by February 1 of their senior year in school and who completed in full and presented at the times and places noted below the following two scholarship forms.

One form is the "Wellesley College Application for Financial Aid," a copy of which will be sent to any registered applicant who, no sooner than the fall of her last year in secondary school, requests it in a letter addressed to the Secretary to the Committee on Scholarships. To receive consideration, the form must be filled out completely and must be returned to the Secretary by October 1 of the senior year in secondary school by candidates requesting Early Decision, and by February 1 of the year of entrance by all other candidates.

The other form, which asks for a financial statement from parents, is issued by the College Scholarship Service of the College Entrance Examination Board. Anyone may secure a copy by writing to the College Scholarship Service, Box 176, Princeton, New Jersey, unless the parents live in or west of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, or New Mexico, in which case they should write to Box 27986, Los Angeles 27, California. For the convenience of students who are registered for admission at Wellesley, the Secretary to the Committee on Scholarships will enclose copies of the College Scholarship Service form when a registered applicant writes to her for the Wellesley College form. The College Scholarship Service form should be filled out completely and sent before October 1 by candidates for Early Decision, and before February 1 by all other applicants. This form should be sent, not to Wellesley, but to the College Scholarship Service at the address given above. The Service will then forward a copy for confidential use only to the college or colleges which the parents of the applicant designate.

Candidates for admission who have sufficient money for the first year but who expect to need assistance for the later years should inform the Secretary to the Committee on Scholarships by March 1 of the year of entrance. The Committee on Scholarships endeavors to allocate funds so that students to whom scholarships have been awarded may continue to have financial help as needed and merited throughout their course. The Committee must also reserve some funds for students who later may be faced with emergencies and for students who can finance the first year but know from the beginning that later assistance will be needed; hence the request for information if future need is expected. Students who indicate this fact in advance will be given consideration for financial aid in following years ahead of students who know but do not state before entrance that their resources will not carry them through the four years.

Applications from students in college should be filed with the Secretary to the Committee on Scholarships on forms obtained from her office. Instructions concerning applications are posted shortly before the Christmas vacation.

It should be noted that the candidate does not make direct application for a Pendleton Scholarship or for any of the other named scholarships which are within the award of the College (except in the case of Seven College Scholarships). She applies for assistance in general terms. After awards are made, she will be informed in due course of the name of the scholarship which has been assigned to her and of the circumstances which led to its establishment.

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

GIFT SCHOLARSHIPS

Most gift scholarships are supported by named funds or are awarded without special designation from the general fund for scholarships. In addition, there are Pendleton Scholarships, Seven College Scholarships, and Town Scholarships.

Pendleton Scholarships. Fifteen of the entering freshmen who receive scholarships may be named Pendleton Scholars. These scholarships are awarded in memory of Ellen Fitz Pendleton, President of the College from 1911 to 1936. Eight of the Pendleton Scholarships are awarded on a regional basis: New England States, one; Middle Atlantic States, one; Southern States, two; Central States, two; Western States, two. The remaining seven may be awarded to students from any part of the country. Stipends vary in terms of need. Entering freshmen do not apply specifically for Pendleton Scholarships.

Seven College Scholarships. Twenty-one scholarships are awarded annually by the Seven College Conference, an informal association of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, and Wellesley. Each college offers one scholarship in each of the following areas: Central States (Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska); Southwest (Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas); West (California, Idaho, Oregon, Washington). As with all Wellesley scholarships, the stipends vary according to need and may amount to the full expenses for tuition and residence.

Further information and application blanks for the Seven College Scholarships may be obtained from the Director of Admission. Applications must be filed by January 30 of the year of entrance.

Town Scholarships. The College offers ten tuition scholarships to students who meet the standards for admission and are residents of the township of Wellesley. These tuition scholarships are renewable so long as the student remains of diploma grade standing at the College and continues to reside in Wellesley. Selection of Town Scholars is made by the Selectmen of the Town of Wellesley.

WORK GUARANTEES

Work guarantees assure holders that they will earn $90 to $150 a year toward their fee by working three to five hours a week in the library, academic departments, campus snack bar, etc. Students are selected to hold work guarantees on the basis of proficiency in the work involved, personal qualities, and financial need. In general, these guarantees constitute a part of a larger award.

LOANS AND SPECIAL AIDS

The Wellesley Students' Aid Society was established in the early days of the College by Mrs. Henry Fowle Durant, the wife of the founder, at a time when the College had no scholarship funds. Now the Society works in close cooperation with the College Committee on Scholarships to supplement college awards with gifts and loans. Its scholarship gifts are made for one year at a time to students who have applied to the Committee on Scholarships for financial aid; they are renewable on the same bases as college awards. The student who receives a gift scholarship from both the College and the Students' Aid Society has all the benefits of a single award and receives more assistance than could be given to her from either source alone.

In addition to funds for scholarship gifts, the Society has loan funds which enable students and their parents to spread the cost of the college education over a longer period than four years. On the basis of individual records and of the financial statements which the student has filed with the Secretary to the Committee on Scholarships, the Society determines who shall have loans and the size of each loan.

The Students' Aid Society also renders personal assistance to students through loans of books and other items and through gifts of clothes and small amounts of money for incidental expenses and emergencies.

FEES AND EXPENSES

The annual, inclusive fee for tuition, board, and room is $2200. This fee represents approximately three fourths of the cost to the College for each resident student; the difference is made up from endowed funds and gifts. The times of payment for resident undergraduate students are as follows:

Standard Plan:

July 10 (for freshmen, June 1), deposit, not refundable, to reserve a place at Wellesley for the following year. Failure to make the deposit forfeits enrollment for the year.	$ 50
September, at the opening of college	$1075
February, at the beginning of the second semester	$1075

Alternative Plan:

If this plan is used the parent or guardian accepts obligation to pay for the entire semester.

July 10 (for freshmen, June 1) (See requirement under Standard Plan)	$ 50
First semester: four installments, in September, November, December, January, each $270.25	$1081
Second semester: four installments, in February, March, April, May, each $270.25	$1081

Payments should be sent to the Assistant Treasurer. Because the College necessarily makes commitments in advance for instruction and living arrangements, no reduction or rebate of the fee can be made in the case of illness, withdrawal, dismissal, or for any other reason. Fees must be paid before the student may attend classes at the start of the first or second semester, and all college charges must be met before the diploma is awarded. The College reserves the right to revise the fee at the end of any year should conditions make it necessary.

Undergraduate students who wish information concerning non-resident fees should write to the Assistant Treasurer. Graduate students should consult the bulletin on Graduate Study at Wellesley College for fees and fellowship opportunities.

SPECIAL FEES AND EXPENSES

A non-refundable application fee of $15 is required of all candidates for admission and readmission (see page 111). Infirmary fees for care in excess of the free days allowed by the College are stated on pages 114-115. Fees for instrumental and vocal lessons are stated on page 84. There are no other college fees. The student should plan, however, on an annual expenditure of $50 to $100 for books, supplies, and subscriptions, and at least $150 for incidentals and recreation.

THE BUILDINGS AND EQUIPMENT

All of the buildings described below are located on the campus, a four hundred acre tract of rolling meadow and woodland which borders on a natural lake one mile in length. The campus contains special plantings in the Hunnewell Arboretum and the Alexandra Botanic Gardens, experimental gardens for students of botany, the Hay Outdoor Theatre, and ample facilities for a wide range of land and water sports.

ACADEMIC AND COMMUNITY BUILDINGS

“COLLEGE HALL II” is the remaining part of the original College Hall, erected in 1875. After long use as a science building, in 1956 it became the center for student organizations.

MUSIC HALL, erected in 1880, and the adjacent Billings Hall, erected in 1904, have housed the Music Department. In 1958 this department moved to the new Margaret Weyerhaeuser Jewett Music and Drama Building.

SIMPSON INFIRMARY was the gift of M. H. Simpson in memory of his wife, who had been a trustee of the College. It was erected in 1881 as a residence hall, later became the infirmary, and now provides living quarters for the college physicians and nurses. In 1942 a new wing containing a 29-bed hospital and a clinic was erected and connected with the old infirmary.

THE HOUGHTON MEMORIAL CHAPEL was presented in 1899 by Miss Elizabeth G. Houghton and Clement S. Houghton as a memorial to their father, William S. Houghton, a trustee of the College. In it are stained glass windows commemorating the founder and several former members of the College, and a famous tablet by Daniel Chester French in memory of Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley's second president.

THE WHITIN OBSERVATORY was erected in 1900, the gift of Mrs. John C. Whitin, a trustee of the College. It contains laboratories, darkrooms, and the library of the department of Astronomy. Its extensive research equipment includes six-inch and twelve-inch Clark visual refractors.

MARY HEMENWAY HALL, the gymnasium, was erected in 1909 when the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics affiliated with the College and Mrs. Mary Hemenway of Boston provided the funds for this building. It contains an indoor gymnasium, offices, and lecture rooms.

The LIBRARY BUILDING, erected in 1910 and enlarged in 1916, was the gift of Andrew Carnegie. A new wing constructed in 1957, which doubles its size, and a complete remodeling of the original building, finished in 1958 and including a language laboratory shared by the modern foreign language departments, are the gifts of alumnae and friends. A major contribution was made by David M. Mahood and Mrs. Helen M. Petit as a memorial to Helen Ritchie Petit of the Class of 1928. The Library Building contains approximately 230,000 volumes which include a number of special collections, among them the English Poetry Collection created by George Herbert Palmer and added to by Katharine Lee Bates, Elizabeth Manwaring, and Sara Teasdale, the Browning Collection, the Plimpton Collection of Italian books and manuscripts, and the Elbert Collection on the Negro in slavery. Two other collections, the Laura Hibbard Loomis Collection of Medieval Literature and the collection on the Far East given by the Mayling Soong Foundation, while not housed separately, enrich the resources of the library. The Rare Book Collection contains manuscripts and a small collection of rare books and first editions which range in time from a copy of the Ratdolt Euclid printed in 1482 to the books issued by the contemporary Grabhorn Press. Another 75,000 volumes are located in the Art, Music, and Science departmental libraries.

THE ANNE L. PAGE MEMORIAL SCHOOL, for boys and girls of three, four, and five years of age, occupies two small buildings, the first of which was erected in 1913. It is equipped with one-way screens enabling students to observe the children effectively without themselves being seen.

FOUNDERS HALL, a classroom building for the humanities, social sciences, and mathematics, was erected in 1919. Dedicated as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fowle Durant, it was built from the Restoration Fund which trustees, faculty, alumnae and friends of the College secured after the College Hall fire.

ALUMNAE HALL, the gift of the alumnae, was built in 1923. It houses the largest auditorium on the campus, a ballroom, and "The Well," the campus snack bar.

SAGE HALL is named in honor of Mrs. Russell Sage, its principal donor. The unit for botany and bacteriology was erected in 1927 and that for zoology and physiology in 1931. In 1956 the building was remodeled and enlarged to provide facilities also for geography and geology. It contains the laboratories, lecture rooms, and offices of the four departments, a library, and a teaching museum and display areas for the departments of Botany and Bacteriology, Geology, and Zoology and Physiology. Equipment for the research of students and faculty includes greenhouses with a range of climates from tropic to desert, a vivarium, an aquarium, and extensive map collections.

HETTY H. R. GREEN HALL, erected in 1931, was in large part the gift of Mrs. Green's son and daughter, Colonel Edward H. R. Green and Mrs. Matthew A. Wilks. It contains the administrative offices of the College, class and seminar rooms, and the faculty assembly hall. The Galen L. Stone Tower, named for its donor, who was long a trustee of the College, houses a carillon which was the gift of Mrs. Charlotte Nichols Greene.

PENDLETON HALL, erected in 1935, was named at the request of the students in honor of Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of the College from 1911 to 1936. It contains the laboratories, lecture rooms, libraries, and offices of the departments of Chemistry, Physics, and Psychology. Extensive facilities and equipment provide opportunity for advanced work in various fields of chemistry, including chemical spectroscopy and instrumental analysis; in optics, electronics, and atomic physics; and in various types of experimental psychology.

THE RECREATION BUILDING was opened in 1939. It contains game rooms, badminton and squash courts, lounges, and the George Howe Davenport Swimming Pool which bears the name of the trustee who gave generously toward its construction.

THE JEWETT ARTS CENTER, completed in 1958, is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. George Frederick Jewett, their son, George Frederick Jewett, Jr., and their daughter, Mrs. William H. Greer, Jr. Mrs. Jewett, a trustee of Wellesley College, is an alumna, as is her daughter and as was Mr. Jewett's mother. The Center consists of the Mary Cooper Jewett Art Building and the Margaret Weyerhaeuser Jewett Music and Drama Building.

THE MARY COOPER JEWETT ART BUILDING contains the museum, classrooms, study rooms and studios, offices and slide collections, of the Art Department and, through the use of a bequest from Mrs. William Hewson Baltzell, a trustee of the College from 1930 to 1938, the Art Library. The museum collection contains choice examples of classical and medieval art; sculptures by Sansovino, Lehmbruck, and Maillol; a famous early Corot and other paintings by such artists as Crespi, Magnasco, Strozzi, Terborch, Cezanne, and Picasso; and, on extended loan, works by Piero di Cosimo, Rubens, Rodin, and Copley.

THE MARGARET WEYERHAEUSER JEWETT MUSIC AND DRAMA BUILDING contains the music library of books, scores, and recordings; listening rooms, practice studios, classrooms, and offices of the Music Department, and a variety of musical instruments including a baroque organ, a clavichord, and a harpsichord; also a rehearsal room and workshop for the College Theatre, and an auditorium seating 350 people for art and music lectures, concerts, and experimental theatre.

RESIDENCE HALLS

The fourteen residence halls for undergraduate students compose three groups on the campus. Each group is approximately the same distance from the central academic buildings. In the northwest section are Munger Hall and Hazard Quadrangle, which is formed by four halls, Beebe, Cazenove, Pomeroy, and Shafer. Tower Court, Claffin, and Severance Halls are together on the hill overlooking Lake Waban where the original College Hall once stood. The third group stretches east from Stone and Davis on the lake shore to Bates and Freeman, the newest halls, and to Navy and Homestead, which are all-freshman houses.

MUNGER HALL, which houses about 125 students, was given by Miss Jessie D. Munger, of the Class of 1886, in honor of her mother, Gertrude C. Munger. Each of the halls in the HAZARD QUADRANGLE, which is named in honor of Wellesley's fifth president, accommodates about 120 students. BEEBE was made possible by a legacy from Captain John Allen Beebe, a Nantucket sea captain and the father of Alice B. Beebe, of the Class of 1896. CAZENOVE, the gift of Pauline Durant, who with her husband founded the College, bears the name of Mrs. Durant's mother; POMEROY, too, is named for its donor, Mrs. Martha D. Pomeroy, who bequeathed the funds to build it. SHAFER honors the memory of Wellesley's third president.

TOWER COURT, so named because of its tower in the central part separating the two wings and because of its courtyard overlooking the lake, houses approximately 245 students. It was the gift of Ellen Stebbins James. CLAFLIN accommodates about 120 and SEVERANCE 145 students. CLAFLIN is named in memory of William Claflin, governor of Massachusetts and a member of the original corporate body of the College in 1870, while SEVERANCE bears the name of Elizabeth Severance Prentiss, of the Class of 1887, who was the largest individual donor to the building.

STONE and DAVIS HALLS house about 90 students each. The present Stone Hall was built on the site of old Stone Hall, which was made possible by a bequest from Mrs. Valeria G. Stone. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., made generous contributions toward the present Stone and Davis Halls. Olive Davis, for whom Davis Hall is named, was a member of the Class of 1886 and for many years Director of Residence at Wellesley; upon her death she made Wellesley her residuary legatee. BATES HALL is named in memory of Katharine Lee Bates, of the Class of 1880, for many years a professor of English literature at Wellesley, and FREEMAN HALL in memory of Alice Freeman Palmer, Wellesley's second president. Each of these dormitories houses 137 students. Connected with them is the Hart Dining Room, which commemorates Sophie Chantal Hart, long a professor of English composition and by bequest a generous donor to the College. Approximately 110 freshmen live in NAVY and DOWER and share the Hart Dining Room. Navy derives its name from the fact that it was moved to the campus from a Naval Air Station where it had been quarters for women officers during World War II, and Dower from the fact that it was a part of the original estate reserved for Mrs. Durant's use.

FORMS OF BEQUEST

I give to Wellesley College, a Massachusetts corporation, free and clear of all inheritance taxes, the sum of dollars.

I give to Wellesley College, a Massachusetts corporation, free and clear of all inheritance taxes, the sum of dollars. The principal of this bequest shall be held and may be mingled with other endowment funds of the College for investment purposes. The net income shall be used for [here describe the intended purpose, as, for example, faculty salaries in, using general language so that by inadvertence in the choice of words the college will not be prevented from applying the income to the intended purpose in the most efficient way]. If, due to changed circumstances in the future, the Trustees of the College shall determine that all or part of the income cannot be used to the best advantage for the above purpose, then all or any balance of the income not so expended may be used for any educational purpose of the College approved by the said Trustees.

If the bequest is residuary, it should read:

“All the rest, residue and remainder of my real and personal estate, I devise and bequeath to Wellesley College, a Massachusetts corporation,” etc.
